Boris: UK and US 'in complete harmony' over Northern Ireland

■ Prime Minister meets President Biden in Cornwall ahead of G7 summit

There is "complete harmony" on the need to solve trade problems in Northern Ireland, Boris Johnson has said, following his first face-to-face meeting with US president Joe Biden.

The two leaders met in Cornwall on Thursday on the eve of the G7 summit.

Mr Johnson said the US, UK and EU all wanted to protect the Good Friday Agreement.

Earlier, Mr Biden warned that the UK-EU dispute over border controls should not "imperil" the peace process.

During their meeting, the two men also established a taskforce to re-establish travel across the Atlantic, after the US banned most British people from entering at the start of the pandemic.

And they agreed a deal - labelled the "Atlantic Charter" - which commits the two countries to work together on global challenges.

The G7 summit began on Friday and will be the first time world leaders have assembled in person since the coronavirus pandemic.

Covid vaccines and climate change are on the agenda - but the on-going disagreement between the UK and the EU over post-Brexit regulatory checks on goods going into Northern Ireland from Great Britain look set to feature heavily in diplomatic discussions.

The arrangements were agreed in the 2019 Brexit withdrawal deal, but the UK has since sought more flexibility.

Asked about the dispute on Thursday evening, French President Emmanuel Macron said: "I think it's not serious to want to review in July what we finalised after years of debate and work in December.

'democratic values'

"We have a trade deal - it has been painfully discussed for years... if six months later, they say: 'What we negotiated with you, we don't know how to respect it', then that means that nothing is respectable anymore."

Speaking after his meeting with Mr Johnson, Mr Biden said the "Atlantic Charter" would address the "key challenges of this century - cyber security, emerging technologies, global health and climate change".

"We affirmed the special relationship - that is not said lightly - the special relationship between our people and renewed our commitment to defending the enduring democratic values that both our nations share," he added.

'fresh air'

Meanwhile, Mr Johnson praised the Biden Administration as "a breath of fresh air" adding "there's so much they want to do together with us, from security, Nato, to climate change".

Exchanging gifts, Mr Johnson gave the president a photo of Frederick Douglass and a Daphne du Maurier first edition to First Lady Jill Biden.

The Bidens gave Mr Johnson a US-made bike and helmet while the prime minister's new wife Carrie Johnson received a tote bag and scarf.

Before the meeting, Mrs Biden and Mrs Johnson joined their husbands in Cornwall for walk in Carbis Bay.

Admiring the view, Mr

Biden said: "It's gorgeous - I don't want to go home."

The two women dipped their feet in the sea and later had tea together.

Dr Biden told reporters: "It's really nice to be here in Cornwall. It's my first time. Obviously it's beautiful for those of you who have been here before."

Mr Biden suggested that both he and the prime minister had "married way above our stations" - something with which Mr Johnson agreed.

The prime minister married his partner Carrie in a low-key wedding in Westminster Cathedral, at the end of May.

What is the UK-EU Northern Ireland dispute about?

Northern Ireland was given special status as a result of the 2019 Brexit "divorce" settlement between the UK and the EU.

While England, Scotland and Wales no longer follow EU rules, Northern Ireland still does, because it shares a land border with the Republic of Ireland, an EU member.

In order to avoid a physical border between the two countries - and thereby protect the peace process - it was agreed that customs checks would take place on goods entering Northern Ireland from elsewhere in the UK.

But unionists say this has effectively put a border down the Irish Sea instead

- something they are ideologically opposed to - and business say supply chains have been complicated and disrupted.

Talks on Wednesday between Brexit minister Lord Frost and the European Commission's Maros Sefcovic to try to resolve the standoff ended without a breakthrough.

Fears grow as Delta variant takes hold in Britain

■ Covid cases on the rise again; new infections rise two thirds over previous week

The highly contagious "delta" variant of the coronavirus originating from India now makes up nearly all of the U.K.'s new coronavirus cases, Health Minister Matt Hancock revealed Thursday, as the rapid spread of the mutant strain adds a new threat to Europe's reopening.

Hancock told MPs while under questioning about the government's handling of the pandemic that intelligence he saw Wednesday night showed 91% of the U.K.'s new cases are made up by the delta variant.

While research is still ongoing about its transmission rate, Hancock told Parliament earlier this week that the British government believes the delta variant is 40% more transmissible than the alpha variant (B.1.1.7) first detected in Britain.

Notably, as of Thursday, just three fully vaccinated people in the U.K. infected with the new variant have been hospitalized, according to data cited by Hancock, who emphasized "the jabs are working."

However, government data shows cases have been sharply rising in the U.K.: more than 41,000 new infections were reported in England in the week through June 9, a two-thirds increase from the previous seven-day period.

The revelation about the virus's prevalence in the U.K. came as the World Health Organization on Thursday morning warned the delta variant is "poised to take hold" across Europe.

Hans Kluge, WHO's regional director for Europe, encouraged countries to "act fast on signals of increasing cases" and urged caution as some move to reopen.

Hancock stressed that vaccines appear to be effective against this version of the virus. So far, the U.K. has partially vaccinated over 60% of its population and fully vaccinated nearly 43%, boasting one of the most successful vaccine rollouts in the world. The broader European Union has moved more slowly, with just 42% partially vaccinated and 22% fully vaccinated against the virus. Nonetheless, the spread of the variant is threatening to prolong lockdowns in the U.K. as the government is currently weighing whether it should delay the lifting of restrictions in England scheduled for June 21.

Another 7,393 coronavirus cases were reported in UK on Wednesday. It was the second day running cases have topped 7,000 - prior to this that number was last surpassed in late February. Seven more deaths were reported of people who had tested positive within the previous 28 days. In the last seven days, there have been 44,008 new positive coronavirus tests in the UK. That's a rise of 17,036 - or 63.2% - from the previous week. The data is "not heading in the right direction" and suggests there will be a further rise in the coming weeks, warned chief executive of the UK Health Security Agency Dr Jenny Harries.

The variant is also spreading in the U.S. The White House said Thursday that the Delta variant now makes up 6% of coronavirus infections, but highlighted the efficacy of vaccinations against the Delta strain. The U.S. is reporting record low hospitalizations, deaths and cases since the start of the pandemic.

In the last seven days, there have been 44,008 new positive coronavirus tests in the UK. That's a rise of 17,036 - or 63.2% - from the previous week.

UK to donate 100m vaccine doses

Boris Johnson says the UK will start donating coronavirus vaccines to poorer countries in the next few weeks.

More than 100m surplus doses will be delivered in the next year, he announced ahead of the G7 summit.

US President Joe Biden has promised half a billion doses of Pfizer vaccines to 92 low and middle-income countries and the African Union.

The first 5m doses from the UK will be given by the end of September, with another 25m by the end of the year.

The prime minister (pictured, above) said: "As a result of the success of the UK's vaccine programme we are now in a position to share some of our surplus doses with those who need them.

"In doing so we will take a massive step towards beating this pandemic for good."

He said he hoped his fellow leaders at the summit in Carbis Bay, Cornwall, which started on Friday, would "make similar pledges so that, together, we can vaccinate the world by the end of next year".

The group of leaders of wealthy nations is expected to collectively agree to provide a billion doses of coronavirus vaccines in a collective effort to end the pandemic.

The leaders of Canada, Japan, France, Germany and Italy as well as the US and the UK, are also setting out a plan to expand vaccine manufacturing to help hit that goal.

Speaking in Cornwall, Mr Biden said: "The United States is providing these half billion doses with no strings attached. No strings attached.

"Our vaccine donations don't include pressure for favours, or potential concessions. We're doing this to save lives."

It is not the first contribution to global vaccination by the UK government - it has already donated over £500m to Covax, the scheme that distributes vaccines to the world's poorest countries.

And it helped develop the Oxford AstraZeneca vaccine, which is available at cost price - with two-thirds of the 400m doses going to low and middle-income countries, including 170m to India.

UK adults 25-29 can now get vaccine

All adults aged 25 to 29 in England who have not yet had a Covid vaccine will be able to book their first dose from Tuesday.

The move brings the UK a step closer to meeting the target to offer all adults a vaccine by the end of July.

Health Secretary Matt Hancock said vaccines were breaking the link between infections, hospitalisations and deaths.

But he said it was too soon to decide the next steps of unlocking.

That's because Covid cases are rising again, linked to a new variant first found in India, also known as B.1.617.2 or Delta.

It is now the dominant type in circulation and surge testing is taking place to try to stop it spreading further.

Under the government's proposed timetable remaining restrictions are due to be removed on 21 June - the so-called step four of the road map back to normality.

Mr Hancock told MPs: "It is too early to make decisions on step four, the road map has always been guided by the data."

"So we'll assess the data and announce the outcome a week today on 14 June."

He said jabs were still working though, "breaking the link between infections, hospitalisations and deaths, a link that was rock solid back in the autumn".

In England, people aged 25 and older can go online or call 119 to book.

In Scotland, people aged 30 and over are eligible for a vaccine. Wales is six weeks ahead of schedule and is vaccinating over 18s.

Palace insists it was NOT consulted on new baby name

■ Source contradicts Harry's claim that he consulted the Queen on 'Lilibet' name for daughter

The Queen was not asked by the Duke and Duchess of Sussex about naming their daughter Lilibet, a Palace source has told reporters.

The source directly contradicted reports in the wake of the announcement of the name that Prince Harry and Meghan had spoken to the Queen before the birth.

But a Sussexes' spokesperson insisted they would not have used the name had the Queen not been supportive.

They said the monarch was the first family member the duke had called.

The spokesperson said: "The duke spoke with his family in advance of the announcement - in fact his grandmother was the first family member he called."

"During that conversation, he shared their hope of naming their daughter Lilibet in her honour. Had she not been supportive, they would not have used the name."

nickname

In a letter to some news broadcasters and publishers, the law firm Schillings, which acts for Prince Harry and Meghan, said the BBC report that the Queen was not asked for permission to use the name Lilibet was false and defamatory and should not be repeated.

Lilibet has been the Queen's nickname among family since her childhood.

The relationship between the couple and the Royal Family has made headlines in recent months.

Earlier this year, while the couple were expecting their daughter, they aired criticisms of the Royal Family and made an allegation of racism in an explosive interview with Oprah Winfrey.

And although Harry spoke about difficulties between him and his father, he said that he had a "really good" relationship with the Queen and they spoke regularly over video call.

At the weekend, the couple announced that Lilibet "Lili" Diana Mountbatten-Windsor had been born at a hospital in Santa Barbara in California on Friday morning.

toddler

The name "Lilibet" is heavy with personal history for Her Majesty.

The nickname was coined when then-Princess Elizabeth was just a toddler and couldn't pronounce her own name properly. Her grandfather King George V would affectionately call her Lilibet, imitating her attempts to say her name. It stuck and came to be used by close relatives.

She signed her name as Lilibet on the funeral wreath for one of her closest friends Earl Mountbatten. The Queen's late husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, also called her by the nickname.

birth, it was widely presumed that Harry and Meghan had first spoken to the Queen about the choice of name.

There were subsequent stories in the press quoting "friends" of the couple who strongly suggested that Harry had sought permission from his grandmother.

The Times also reported that it understood the Queen had been informed by Harry about the name.

And a source close to the Sussexes also told the BBC that Harry had spoken to the Queen before the birth and "would have mentioned the name" - claims a Palace source has since disputed.

'delighted'

Lilibet is the Queen's 11th great-grandchild and younger sister to Archie, who is now two years old.

Her middle name, Diana, is a tribute to Prince Harry's late mother. Princess Charlotte, the daughter of Prince William and Catherine, also has Diana as one of her middle names, as well as Elizabeth.

After her birth, Buckingham Palace said the Queen and other senior royals had been informed and were "delighted with the news".

During the interview with Oprah in March, the couple said they would be done after baby number two - meaning they were not planning to have any more children.

Lloyd Webber 'prepared to be arrested' over theatre reopening

■ Impresario's latest show threatened by uncertainty over easing of lockdown; there is 'no chance of infection' he insists

Andrew Lloyd Webber has said he is determined to open his theatres on 21 June, even if he risks being arrested.

The impresario's West End production of Cinderella is scheduled to begin previews on 25 June, four days after so-called "freedom day".

"We are going to open, come hell or high water," he told the Telegraph.

The government has said it will make a judgement soon on whether to proceed with the lifting of lockdown restrictions on 21 June.

According to reports, that date may be pushed back by the government due to concerns over the impact of Covid-19 variant.

Theatres are currently able to operate with reduced capacities and socially distanced audiences.

Lord Lloyd-Webber has previously insisted that productions like his large-scale musicals are "impossible" under those restrictions.

The 73-year-old told the Telegraph he is prepared to be arrested if authorities try to intervene in his reopening plans.

"We will say 'come to the theatre and arrest us,'" the Evita and Phantom of the Opera composer is quoted as saying.

'penalising'

The theatre mogul said he may have to sell his six West End venues if the government does not relax its restrictions.

The pandemic has had a catastrophic financial impact on the theatre industry and many have remained closed despite the ease in Covid-19 measures.

"If the government ignore their own science, we have the mother of all legal cases against them,"

"If Cinderella couldn't open we'd go, 'look, either we go to law about it or you'll have to compensate us.'"

Speaking to Radio 4's Today programme on Wednesday, he called on the government to stop "penalising" the live music and theatre sector.

"We can open safely," the impresario insisted. "Please, please let us get open."

He claimed that recent pilot events had shown there was "no chance of infection being passed... provided certain protocols are maintained".

The government has yet to publish the results of its test event programme, which included having a live audience at last month's Brit Awards.

Audience members at the Brits, held at London's O2 arena, were not required to wear masks or socially distance as they had all been required to take a Covid test.

The theatre mogul said he may have to sell his six West End venues if the government does not relax its restrictions.

Lord Lloyd-Webber said he was happy for his audiences to wear masks at his shows and for so-called vaccine passports to be used.

He said he had spoken to "leading counsel" who had told him it would be "neither rational nor proportionate" for the government to "stop us from going forward."

An organisation representing venues that open at night, such as pubs, nightclubs and live music venues, has said it is also considering taking action should the government delay its lockdown relaxing measures.

"The decision to delay will leave us no other option but to challenge the government aggressively," said Michael Kill, CEO of the Night Time Industries Association (NTIA).

British crocodile victim out of coma in Mexican hospital

■ Melissa Laurie's life saved by twin sister who repeatedly punched reptile during lagoon attack

A British woman attacked by a crocodile in Mexico is out of her coma and breathing independently, her twin has said.

Melissa Laurie, 28, developed sepsis from her wounds following the attack in a lagoon near Puerto Escondido and has been in a medically-induced coma.

Her twin Georgia saved her by punching the reptile in the face.

"She's doing really much better. She's doing really good," Georgia told Radio 1 Newsbeat in a WhatsApp voice note.

Crocodiles try to drown their victims and Melissa was dragged underwater in the attack at the weekend.

The 28-year-old had water on her lungs and possibly a punctured lung as well.

She was receiving help to breathe in the hospital but, in her message, Georgia said the tube was taken out Wednesday morning.

"She's been breathing on her own very well.

"She can't talk because of the soreness in her throat from the tube."

But she explained that her sister can hear well and seemed to understand what was going on around her.

"She recognised me and knew who I was. She seemed happy to see me," Melissa's twin said.

The twins, from Berkshire, had been in Mexico to volunteer, work in animal sanctuaries and travel.

They were outswimming with a guide when the crocodile attacked.

Melissa disappeared under the water and Georgia eventually found her unresponsive.

Georgia and Melissa were swimming in the lagoon when the crocodile attacked

The reptile kept coming back for more so she just started hitting it.

Their older sister Hana Laurie feared the worst at the time but is now relieved to hear Melissa is out of the coma.

"Obviously Melissa is still really really unwell but this is going in the right direction," the 33-year-old said.

"We are so pleased. What an absolutely amazing strong young woman she is. Very proud of her too."

Drown out the Euro 2020 boo boys, England fans urged

■ Vocal minority of fans oppose players taking the knee

England fans are being urged "to drown out boos with applause" by the Football Supporters' Association and Kick It Out during Euro 2020.

England's players were booed before their two friendlies in Middlesbrough last week while taking a knee, which they do to highlight racial injustice.

"We would urge you to think about how booing impacts the players," said Kick It Out chief executive Tony Burnett.

"The issue we all want to address is tackling discrimination in football."

The chief executive of the anti-racism organisation added: "That's something we can and should all get behind.

"Gareth Southgate and the England players have made their position really clear - they are taking the knee as an anti-discrimination gesture, it is in no way linked to any political organisation.

"All of us England fans, myself included, want to see England succeed in the Euros, so we are asking for fans at the games to drown out boos with applause and show the players we are behind them."

England open their Euro 2020 campaign against Croatia at Wembley on Sunday (14:00 BST).

"Fans who make their first act after the referee's whistle booing their own team's stance against racism, should be ashamed of themselves," said the FSA's chief executive Kevin Miles.

"We would urge everyone to show solidarity once more by supporting the team, supporting the players and supporting the knee."

Booing was drowned out by applause before last week's games, which former England captain Rio Ferdinand said was "refreshing to see".

"That's the power of those people, because there's more that are positive and understand the reasons for players taking the knee," he added.

"I'd shout to the fans to make sure you continue

England players taking a stand (sort of) ahead of a recent friendly doing that because we want to be behind these players.

"They're taking the knee for the right reasons, need all the help they can get."

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF SUMNER W. BENNETT, JR. AKA SUMNER WEYMOUTH BENNETT, JR. AKA SUMNER W. BENNETT CASE NO. 21STPB05052
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of: SUMNER W. BENNETT, JR. AKA SUMNER WEYMOUTH BENNETT, JR. AKA SUMNER W. BENNETT A Petition for Probate has been filed by GORDON ANDREW KATZ & BRADLEY JAY BENNETT in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. The Petition for Probate requests that GORDON ANDREW KATZ & BRADLEY JAY BENNETT be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. The Petition requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

The Petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A hearing on the petition will be held in this court on 6/24/2021 at 8:30 A.M. in Dept. 44 Room N/A located at 111 NORTH HILL STREET, LOS ANGELES, CA 90012.

If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Attorney for Petitioner: MARY M. RUDSER, DONAHUE FITZGERALD LLP, 1999 HARRISON STREET, 26TH FLOOR, OAKLAND, CA 94612, Telephone: 510-451-3300 5/29, 6/5, 6/12/21

Brits in LA

Pride in the name of rugger!

■ LA Giltinis debut as LA's first professional rugby team

June is the month for the LGBTQ community to reflect and celebrate and stand up and be counted as equal and something that is out of the stereotype is the good old British game of Rugby. Yes there are gay players too!

We are so excited to have a match coming up where we want everyone to 'show their pride'. Pride in who they are, their community, where they are from and their heritage.

Coming from London myself I know how much my local 'NewComers Group' helped me find my place, my local sports bar, and other friends who helped with the transition and still help me keep some of my family close to me. We have a huge range of Brits within our team and we want to celebrate that.

Here is a message from the LA Giltinis as part of their outreach program:

"We are excited to reach out and connect from the office of the LA Giltinis - Los Angeles' first professional rugby team!"

As we move through our inaugural season in the City of Angels, we are continuously looking for ways to engage the passionate local communities and celebrate the diversity that exists within our city.

As a part of this effort, we are excited to announce that our 6/13 game against Houston at the LA Coliseum will officially be our Giltinis Show Your Pride Match! This game will be an opportunity to celebrate the inclusive nature of rugby and the people that make it so special. In addition to highlighting the incredible LGBTQ+ sports community that exists right here in Los Angeles, we're also encouraging fans from all over the world to show pride in who they are and where they're from!

About the Giltinis

The LA Giltinis is our professional Rugby Union Team representing the City of Los Angeles in Major League Rugby (MLR), named after a premium cocktail based on a Martini. The Giltinis' home matches are played at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum and headquarters and practice facility is located in El Segundo, CA. The LA Giltinis are setting the pace in MLR at 8-1 atop the Western Conference standings with Captain Dave Dennis, Wallabies great Matt Giteau and Head Coach Darren Coleman leading the way. The full 2021 season schedule for the Giltinis can be found by visiting www.giltinis.com and for the full MLR schedule visit www.majorleague.rugby

About MLR

MLR was founded in 2018 with seven teams and has since expanded to 12 teams this season with the LA Giltinis as the newest club. The current teams in the league are: Austin (TX) Gilgronis; Houston (TX)

Sabercats; New England (Boston) Free Jacks; NOLA (New Orleans) Gold; Old Glory DC (Washington, D.C.); Rugby ATL (Atlanta); Rugby United New York; San Diego Legion; Seattle Seawolves; Toronto Arrows; Utah Warriors and the Los Angeles Giltinis. Please feel free to reach out to the Giltinis Ticketing Office to place any Group Ticket orders or with any questions at tickets@giltinis.com or via phone at (424) 290-3059.

Thank you and we'll see you on June 13th for our Show Your Pride Match!

BABC relaunches live events

WITH THE LONG, lockdown finally starting to ease it feels as though we are all coming back to life in so many different ways. For the British business community, the return of live events with the local chapters of the British American Business Council is a very welcome development.

The BABC in Orange County will hold a special 'Welcome Back Business After Hours' event on Wednesday June 23rd from 6-9pm at the beautiful Newport Beach Yacht Club, located at 1099 Bayside Drive in Newport Beach. At the Council's first live event in over a year guests can enjoy a cocktail and complimentary hors d'oeuvres and drink in the stunning views from the yacht club. The event is open to members and non members alike and represents a great opportunity to network with old friends and make some new ones. To register email Jacquie Blair: jacquie@babcoc.org

The following day,

Thursday June 24th from 6-8pm the Los Angeles BABC will host an exclusive Garden Party at the beautiful Four Seasons Hotel in Beverly Hills, in anticipation of the re-opening of the US-UK borders, Virgin Atlantic style.

In what is billed as 'an evening of giveaways, signature cocktails and lots of fun surprises', guests can network with members and friends of the BABC LA, including special guests from Virgin Atlantic, the USA Olympic Rugby Team and the UK Department of International Trade. There is valet parking, a live DJ in a beautiful outdoor setting. MC will be TV personality Carlos Amezcua and the event will feature special remarks by British Consul General Emily Cloke. Advance reservations are required. Tickets are priced at $20 for members and $45 for non-members. The hotel is located at 300 S Doheny Drive, Los Angeles.

Meet a Member: Mel Brown

Not all Brits in LA Members live in Los Angeles: in fact a fair number are scattered around the globe. This week's Member is Mel Brown, who lives in Brighton.

Since you don't live in Los Angeles how did you end up joining Brits in LA?

Well this is an interesting story as I was actually the person who introduced Brits in LA founders Craig and Eileen in the first place. Both best friends I had known for over 25 years! So some may say I was the matchmaker or maybe sperm to egg (!) as they created Brits In LA. I could not be prouder of them and they remain two of my closest friends in the world.

Have you ever visited Los Angeles? If so we would love to hear your impression of the city. Many times and I LOVE it. Firstly I came over with a friend around 23 years ago, it was then I reconnected with Eileen and never looked back. I love the weather, the lifestyle – everything really what's not to love???

Do you think you could ever see yourself moving to LA, if not tell us what keeps you in the UK?

It would be great to live in LA but my work keeps me in the UK. I run Impressive PR an entertainment company looking after actors, music artists, comedians, authors, live events and more. I love it – but it means I can't move out to LA permanently I just try and visit as much as I can which is usually at least twice a year. My media contacts are all in the UK so anyone requiring PR here please get in touch!

Do you have a hidden gem that you want to share with us?

Well my favorite eatery is the 101 Diner but I hear it sadly closed –I have had many a delicious breakfast burrito there! I also love the Alcove in Los Feliz. If anyone happens to visit Brighton where I live then I cannot recommend @ Issacs more highly – it's fine dining with all local produce and wine – all the staff are really young and so dedicated and the chef is the oldest at 27! Or in my village in Rottingdean a little French bistro called Bistro Gourmand, which is amazing, run by Frank who is French!

Would you recommend other overseas/ out of town readers joining Brits in LA?

Of course! It's an amazing community of people – so supportive of each other. The weekly breakfasts are the best! Everyone is so friendly and it really can help people integrate into LA society

We hear you have been working on an exciting project. Care to tell us more about it?

YES I am working on the Funny Women Awards which has just gone global! We are looking for entrants from LA and the surrounding areas and there is a heat planned for their stage award at the end of July. To enter you just need to go to www.funnywomenawards.com. Closing date is the end of this month, so hurry! There are several awards the Stage one is only one of them! Past winners and nominees include London Hughes, Sarah Millican and Katherine Ryan.

Lots of our members join our group Brits in LA seeking out words of wisdom - what is the best piece of advice you've been given? Experience the community to the full. Go to their events and weekly breakfasts – as a key member you are open to so many more exciting things too and you will also make lifelong friends – it's the BEST!

Lastly, how can we find you on the Internet?

You can find me on Instagram @ ImpressivePRUK. Or our website www.impressivepr.com

Stargazing with Annie Shaw

ARIES: Just as your boss Mars comes back into power for you in Leo, doors will open again. You could be deciding which one to go through, although right now patience and calmness are your best choice.

TAURUS: For most folks having being somewhat isolated has been a problem and while you have had your moments of frustration you got over it. However currently you are doing ok. Keep focused and you will soon get back to normal.

GEMINI: If you are feeling a little overwhelmed by an issue it's a good idea for you normally busy people is to really look at how many times you got over difficult situations. Put your energy on a short pleasure trip and think about work later. Happy Birthday!

CANCER: You should be getting plans organized for the latter part of the week ahead. Just don't be too worried if life is still on hold for you. Mars in your life is about to go forward into your money house and lighten up your cash flow.

LEO: You should know by now in this present environment that the greatest gift you can give to others is patience. You have been a busy bee and hopefully achieved space in your life for new beginnings now.

VIRGO: Just when you are ready to get going in life again along comes your boss Mercury going backwards. Not much you can achieve until the end of the month. Instead of worrying focus on the here and now.

LIBRA: Trying to get moving through a pile of mud is the general atmosphere out there recently. Well, get on your thinking cap and dig yourself out. Changing how you look at this is the way to go.

SCORPIO: You should be working on an overall clearing out plan currently. Your boss in Leo brings you extra energy soon. He can also greatly assist you in getting to your goals. A big decision is coming when it's the right time.

SAGITTARIUS: Be sure you don't speak out in a combative way over a tense situation these next few days. It's not a bad situation overall, but since others are trying to control things it's best to keep your own counsel.

CAPRICORN: Some easing up of your recent family or personal situation is happening (or soon will). Keep an eye on it but keep out of it for now. Your boss Saturn is going backwards and is raking up the past.

AQUARIUS: The current times are reasonably good for you due to your boss Uranus in solid earthy Taurus. However, some days you could feel like you are on a roller coaster. This too shall pass.

PISCES: You are getting ready to rumble and while you feel the turmoil of the recent past you also know you will always survive. Get ready good times are heading your way!

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF STEPHEN KALMAN

Case No. 21STPB05171

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of STEPHEN KALMAN

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Lela A. Osborne in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Lela A. Osborne be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on June 25, 2021 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 79 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF ESTHER COOK SHERMAN aka ESTHER SHERMAN aka ESTER SHERMAN

Case No. 21STPB05357
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of ESTHER COOK SHERMAN aka ESTHER SHERMAN aka ESTER SHERMAN

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Howard Jasan Sherman in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Howard Jasan Sherman be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on July 8, 2021 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 9 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Toffees stuck on ex-Reds boss Rafa

Everton are considering a shock move for former Liverpool manager Rafa Benitez.

Benitez is available and hungry for a return to the Premier League, and Everton owner Farhad Moshiri is weighing up what would be the most unexpected appointment in Goodison Park history.

Moshiri initially focused on two clear frontrunners in the race to replace Carlo Ancelotti, who plunged the club into an unwanted managerial crisis last week to return to Real Madrid. A first round of talks with representatives of ex-Wolves coach Nuno Espirito Santo did not lead to a convincing outcome, and a reunion with David Moyes is complicated as he is under contract at West

Ham. Moyes, who spent 11 years at Everton, remains a strong contender, but Moshiri is adamant he will not meet the Scot without permission from the West Ham board with whom he has a good relationship.

mutual interest

That means some of the names previously thought of as rank outsiders have come into the equation, with Benitez, 61, the most intriguing to have been discussed at boardroom level.

Moshiri has good reason to at least meet Benitez, who lives on Merseyside and is a free agent following his most recent stint at the Chinese club, Dalian Professional. There has already been contact between Benitez and Everton to sound out mutual interest. But for his obvious Anfield connections - Benitez spent six years at Liverpool where he won the Champions League and FA Cup - his candidacy would be a no-brainer given the calibre of his CV which includes the highest honours in European football.

Benitez has spoken openly about his eagerness to return to management in England as soon as possible, and is pragmatic enough to realise the Everton job is an attractive proposition.

The question for Moshiri is how palatable that would be to his fanbase. There are numerous examples of players switching their allegiances, but no manager has ever led both clubs.

games held in the UK since Euro 1996.

With Wembley hosting group games, a last-16 tie, both semi-finals and the final, England would only have to play one match abroad if they win their group and go all the way.

Wales are also among the 24 teams, although they do not host any games.

The tournament kicked off with Italy vs Turkey in Rome on Friday and concludes with the final at Wembley in London on Sunday, 11 July.

The other host cities are Glasgow, Amsterdam, Baku, Bucharest, Budapest, Copenhagen, Munich, Rome and Seville.

England's three group games will be at Wembley with Scotland playing their other two matches at Hampden Park. Wales play theirs in Baku in Azerbaijan and Rome in Italy.

Anderson into the history books with record 162nd England cap

Fast bowler James Anderson became England's most capped Test player after being selected to play in the series decider against New Zealand.

The 38-year-old won his 162nd cap at Edgbaston, surpassing former captain Alastair Cook.

Lancashire's Anderson made his Test debut in 2003 and has taken 616 wickets - an England record.

"I can't believe I have got this far," Anderson told BBC Sport. "It's been an amazing journey."

He is seventh on the overall list for most caps and fourth for most wickets, the leading fast bowler in each.

Anderson added: "I'm lucky that I have got a body that can cope with the rigours of bowling."

"I do work hard at my fitness and my skills. It also having the hunger to turn up every day to try to get better."

"That is all I've done since I became a professional and that will hopefully continue for a few more years yet."

Anderson revealed he received a congratulatory phone call from former team-mate Cook on Wednesday night and he was presented with a special shirt with the number 162 on the back by his England team-mates before play on Thursday.

We're facing ugly truths, says Root

Captain Joe Root (above) says his side have faced up to some "ugly truths" after a number of offensive historical tweets from England players were revealed.

Rising bowling star Ollie Robinson this week apologized for racist and sexist tweets from 2012 and 2013 and has been suspended pending an investigation.

The England and Wales Cricket Board also said it would take action after tweets from others came to light.

"We want to move forward in a really positive way," said Root.

Speaking before Thursday's second and final Test against New Zealand, Root added: "We've had to face up to some ugly truths this past week or so and there will be challenges moving forward.

"But the group of players we have now is very much committed to moving the game forward, to making it a better place, making it more inclusive and educating ourselves further."

"We're going to have to front up to what has happened, but ultimately we want to move forward in a really positive way, to keep going on this journey we've started of trying to better our sport."

"We will continue to do that because that's how we all feel."

The tweets from pace bowler Robinson, 27, posted when he was aged 18 and 19, were unearthed during the first day of the drawn first Test, while he was on the field making his international debut.

He later said he was "ashamed" and "embarrassed", and on Sunday was removed from the England squad while the ECB carries out an investigation.

On Monday, the governing body confirmed it was looking into a report by Wisden a second player had posted offensive material. The player, whose identity was "obscured" by Wisden, was under 16 when the post was made.

Then, on Tuesday evening, the ECB said it would take "relevant and appropriate action" after historical tweets from several England players were "questioned publicly".

Tweets by Eoin Morgan, James Anderson and Jos Buttler have also been highlighted online.

£67m for Sancho? Nein, danke!

■ Dortmund rebuff United's big money bid for rising England star

Manchester United have had a £67m bid for England winger Jadon Sancho turned down by Borussia Dortmund.

The German club want about £77.5m for the 21-year-old, with an additional £4.25m bonus payment on top.

Reports from Old Trafford suggest that in addition to the fee not being high enough, United wanted to pay it over five years when Dortmund are only willing for it to extend to four.

United are now considering whether to revise their offer.

The Old Trafford club will be keen to avoid a repeat of 12 months ago, when they were given a fee by Dortmund for Sancho, then tried to reduce it believing the Bundesliga side would eventually sell for a lower price.

In the end, Dortmund refused to budge and Sancho remained where he was.

Asked on BBC Radio 5 Live if playing in Germany has contributed to his success on the pitch, Sancho said it has "definitely played a huge part".

He added: "The first two years were difficult with the language and all sorts but I have settled in really well and happily got my opportunity. I took it.

"Dortmund is a quiet city, it is easy to go to training and go home. The fans love football and that is a good thing. Not being close to my family is the only thing [I don't enjoy] but that is part of life.

"I don't really focus on the media, I just focus on myself and what I need to do on the pitch."

Dortmund have a gentleman's agreement with Sancho that they will allow him to leave the club if someone reaches their valuation before a certain point in the summer, which is likely to coincide with his expected return date from England duty at the European Championship.

Among their major young stars, including Erling Braut Haaland and Jude Bellingham, Sancho is the only one

JADON SANCHO: the German club want £77.5m for the 21-year-old

Dortmund are interested in selling this summer.

United manager Ole Gunnar Solskjaer will be keen to get the deal done, and has identified a right-sided attacking player as one of his priorities.

He feels there is not enough competition for places in that area of the field, a situation underlined by the fact he failed to make a substitution until extra time despite his side struggling in the Europa League final against Villarreal, which they eventually lost on penalties.

One Year On: Euro 2020 opens

Euro 2020 finally got under way on Friday - and what was already going to be a unique tournament will be notable for several other reasons too.

The competition keeps its name even though it was delayed for a year because of the Covid-19 pandemic. It will now run from 11 June to 11 July 2021 across 11 countries, separated by 4,766km.

It is a first major tournament for Scotland since 1998, while England could have home advantage in nearly every game and Wales are at their second Euros in a row.

England and Scotland, who are in the same group, are two of the host countries in the first European Championship to be held across the continent.

They will be the first major tournament
