

HARRY URGED: HEAL THE RIFT!

■ Estranged princes united in London for unveiling of statue to their late mother

PRINCE Harry has been urged to reconcile with Prince William in tribute to their mother who would have been 60 this week.

The brothers, at war over Harry's claims made in his bombshell Oprah Winfrey interview, called a truce to unveil a statue to Diana on Thursday.

It is seen as the first step towards ending a row that erupted after the Duke of Sussex's explosive claims of racism in the Royal Family in the TV show last March.

The princes have not spoken at length since – but royal biographer Robert Lacey said on Wednesday: "Some sort of reconciliation would be the finest tribute they could make to their mother."

The Duke of Cambridge and the Duke of Sussex were united at the public unveiling of a statue erected in memory of their late mother, in the Sunken Garden of London's Kensington Palace – one of Diana's most treasured retreats.

The estranged siblings are making tentative moves towards a full mending of fences and repairing their fractured relationship would be the greatest way of remembering their mother, said Mr. Lacey.

'hopeful'

He said: "They will be the first to understand how some sort of reconciliation would be the finest tribute they could make to their mother. Whether that can happen quickly is another question. I think it's more likely to be the beginning of a slow reconciliation. But it's hopeful."

The princes were due to meet informally after the ceremony to discuss their row, which deepened following Harry's claims to US chat show host Oprah Winfrey and later podcast accusations about suffocating life as a senior royal.

A royal source said: "Tensions are undoubtedly running high but this project is incredibly personal to both brothers and they both realize that it is important to put any differences aside, for the ceremony at least. There is definitely a feeling that both camps are prepared to come together and put on a united front for such a special occasion."

Covid dictated a limited guest list for the unveiling, including Diana's siblings, Earl Spencer, Lady Sarah McCorquodale and Lady Jane Fellowes, as well as the statue committee and others involved in the installation and the garden design. Prince Charles was absent, as was the Queen.

William and Harry made no speeches during the ceremony. In a brief joint statement, released after the unveiling, they said: "Today, on what would have been our mother's 60th birthday, we remember her love, strength and character – qualities that made her a force for good around the world, changing countless lives for the better."

"Every day, we wish she were still with us, and our hope is that this statue will be seen forever as a symbol of her life and her legacy."

Mr Lacey, historical consultant to Netflix series The Crown, said there are "some quite convincing reasons" for the once-close brothers to repair their relationship.

He continued: "[Duchess of Sussex] Meghan is a successful actress and Harry does his work for charity."

"But at the end of the day their appeal, and hence their commercial appeal and commercial contracts they've got to live on, does depend on maintaining some sort of link with the Royal Family. On the other side, as William looks into the future of his monarchy... that he will take over and which is beginning to shape already, he doesn't

'Hopeless' Hancock out after clinch with aide caught on camera

Matt Hancock resigned as Health Secretary on Saturday, one day after he apologized for breaching Covid regulations.

The married politician was pictured kissing and embracing his adviser, with whom British tabloid The Sun alleges he is having an affair. The newspaper reported that the images were from May 6, two weeks before cross-household contact was allowed indoors in England.

"I've been to see the Prime Minister to resign as Secretary of State for Health and Social care... Those of us who make these rules have got to stick by them, and that's why I've got to resign," Hancock said in a video posted on his Twitter page.

"I'm very proud of what we've done to protect the NHS at the peak, to deliver that vaccine rollout - one of the fastest in the world - and I look forward to supporting the government and the Prime Minister from the backbenches," he added.

In a letter to Boris Johnson, he apologized writing, "I want to reiterate my apology for breaking the guidance and apologize to my family and loved ones for putting them through this."

The Sun's report had sparked accusations of apparent cronyism - an allegation that the health secretary has faced previously for awarding a contract to a former neighbor for Covid-19 test kits.

Hancock has been under pressure for months over his handling of the coronavirus pandemic in Britain, but had managed to cling onto his role.

Former Chancellor and Home Secretary Sajid Javid will replace Hancock, Downing Street announced.

Hancock was accused by Prime Minister Boris Johnson's former chief adviser Dominic Cummings of botching the country's coronavirus testing program, as well as lying about the dire situation in care homes and the shortage of personal protective equipment (PPE). Hancock has denied the claims.

To date, more than 128,000 people have died in the United Kingdom from Covid-19 - the highest death toll in Europe. One of the biggest early failures of the UK's response to Covid-19 was in building a test-and-trace system. The British government has also been criticized for neglecting care homes, allowing many facilities to go without sufficient PPE, testing and clear guidelines.

Cummings delivered a damning account of the government's coronavirus response in a marathon seven-hour hearing before members of parliament in Westminster last month, accusing Downing Street and Hancock of misleading the British public.

The divisive figure, who quit his post last November amid the UK's deadly second wave of the pandemic, doubled down on his criticisms of Hancock last week.

"As the PM said himself, Hancock's performance on testing, procurement, PPE [personal protective equipment], care homes etc was 'totally f**king hopeless,'" Cummings said in a tweet, sharing a screenshot of what appears to be a WhatsApp exchange with Johnson just days after the UK went into its first full lockdown amid a worsening outbreak.

Hancock: under pressure for months over his handling of Coronavirus

On March 27, 2020, the same day that Johnson and Hancock both tested positive for the coronavirus, Cummings said he texted the prime minister to tell him the pace of coronavirus testing was too slow and that the health minister had misled government about his ability to speed it up.

According to the screenshot shared on Cummings' blog and on Twitter, Johnson responded: "Totally f**king hopeless."

In another text message a month later, on April 27, when National Health Service staff were running out of critical masks and gowns, Johnson said the PPE shortages were "a disaster," and suggested taking Hancock off procurement of the equipment entirely.

"Wtf do we do?" Johnson wrote.

Asked last week by Sky News whether he was indeed hopeless, Hancock said: "I don't think so."

want to exclude the only mixed-race members of the family from royal status or from being members of the family.

"Harry and Meghan are no longer working members of the family but that doesn't stop them being blood members."

The royal biographer highlighted the Queen's Platinum Jubilee next June as another "milestone", saying the Queen will want the Duke and Duchess of Sussex on the balcony of Buckingham Palace alongside other members of the Royal Family. Mr Lacey said: "There are grounds for hope and I think the unveiling of Diana's statue will provide a first step.

"There are other milestones down the road. One objective we have to look at is next summer when we'll be celebrating 70 years of the Queen's monarchy.

"She will be the first person to want all her family on the balcony with her; that includes the Sussexes and their two children."

Mr Lacey said that the pandemic has made the princes' separation "worse", adding: "Let's hope the easing of Covid will create some sort of mending and healing."

The unveiling was due to be larger, with many of Diana's friends invited, but Covid curbs scaled it back.

Harry arrived in the UK last Friday after travelling from his US home for only the second time since he and wife Meghan ended royal duties in March 2020.

She has stayed in California with their newborn daughter Lilibet "Lili" Diana and two-year-old son Archie.

Harry finished five days of quarantine at their former Windsor home Frogmore Cottage on Wednesday and attended a charity event at Kew Gardens.

The princes had been reunited briefly at the Windsor funeral of their grandfather the Duke of Edinburgh in April.

The garden and statue will be free to view during the Palace Gardens' opening hours.

Remove Irish Sea border, demands new DUP leader

■ Donaldson becomes party's third leader in three months

Sir Jeffrey Donaldson has demanded the removal of the Northern Ireland protocol, in his first speech as leader of the Democratic Unionist party.

The MP for Lagan Valley took a hard line over the Irish Sea border on Thursday, calling it the "greatest threat to the economic integrity of the United Kingdom in any of our lifetimes".

Donaldson spoke in Belfast hours after being ratified as the DUP's third leader in three months, a cycle of party turmoil that continued with the resignation of a Stormont assembly member.

Alex Easton, an assembly member for North Down, announced he was quitting the party after 21 years in despair at the infighting.

"I have had to stand back and watch as colleagues tear themselves apart, brief against other colleagues and run to the media in order to hurt each other on a daily basis," Easton said. "There is no respect, discipline or decency, I have just had enough."

The resignation overshadowed an inaugural keynote address in which Donaldson attempted to draw a line under ructions that led to Arlene Foster being ousted as party leader in April, followed by a revolt against her successor, Edwin Poots, last month.

loyalist marches

"I think that we can all agree that the last few months have not been the proudest in the history of the DUP," Donaldson said. "When we should have been focused on the needs of wider society, we have been consumed with the internal politics of the party."

The rows had strained the patience of the public and the party's Sir Jeffrey Donaldson: said the border posed "the greatest threat to the economic integrity of the United Kingdom in any of our lifetimes".

supporters, he said. "As the new leader of the DUP, I want to apologise to our supporters and to the public for that. More importantly, I want to draw a line under it and to move on."

Donaldson, who plans to swap his Westminster seat for one in Stormont to become Northern Ireland's first minister, said he would lead opposition to the protocol in the Brexit deal that requires checks on goods from Great Britain.

The Irish Sea border threatened not just living standards but the constitutional integrity of the United Kingdom, he said. "In the weeks ahead our goal is to remove the Irish Sea border and to preserve and protect the internal UK market."

The comments appear to represent a hardening from his previous position that the UK government needed to "deal" with the protocol.

Police across Northern Ireland are preparing for loyalist marches next week that will commemorate 17th-century battlefield victories and protest against the protocol.

Footie fans pay the price with Coronavirus spike in Scotland

■ 1300 Scots test positive following visit to London

Nearly 1,300 Scotland fans who travelled to London to watch their team play England on 18 June later tested positive for coronavirus, with a total of almost 2,000 football-related cases emerging from Test and Protect data on Wednesday, as Scotland continued to break its record for daily case numbers.

Public Health Scotland (PHS) analysis published on Wednesday revealed that 1,991 people who later tested positive had attended one or more Euro 2020 events during their infection period, a time when they "may have unknowingly transmitted their infection to others".

Nearly two-thirds of cases reported travelling to London for a Euro 2020 event, including 397 people who were at Wembley for Scotland's match against England.

warnings

Scotland were allocated 2,600 tickets for Wembley because of Covid restrictions, but thousands more travelled to London despite warnings from the Scottish government and the mayor of London, Sadiq Khan, not to do so unless they had a safe place to watch the match. There were strict entry requirements for Wembley matches, including having a negative Covid-19 test or proof of full vaccination.

The report states: "PHS is working with Test and Protect and NHS boards to ensure that all public health actions are taken in the close contacts of these Euro 2020 cases as part of the 32,539 cases that were reported to the Test and Protect case management system during this period."

Nearly three-quarters of these cases were people between 20 and 39 years of age and nine out of every 10 cases were male. Attendance at hospitality venues was the most frequently reported tag, representing 34% of all tags. A relatively small number of cases reported attending the Fan Zone in Glasgow, or Scotland's two home matches at Hampden.

Scotland recorded 3,887 cases on Wednesday

– its highest ever. At her Tuesday briefing, the first minister, Nicola Sturgeon, was asked why rates had risen so steeply in Scotland in recent weeks, in comparison with the rest of the UK.

"susceptible"

She pointed out that the Delta variant was first seeded into Glasgow, the country's biggest city, and so was able to spread more quickly than elsewhere in the UK, and also reminded viewers that Scotland had lower population immunity because fewer people had the virus in earlier waves, thus there was a larger "susceptible population".

Sturgeon also said the latest figures showed that 80% of new cases were among the under-44s and just 2% in the over-65s. But the latest data from the National Records of Scotland indicates that older people continue to be worst affected by the virus. Its weekly data release on Wednesday revealed that there were 17 deaths where Covid-19 was mentioned on the death certificate over the past week, an increase of four on the previous week, but those deaths were all in the over-65 age group.

Princess Anne's friend shot dead by husband after moving in with lover

■ Spurned husband killed wife with shotgun before turning gun on himself, inquest told

HARROWING details of how a royal dog trainer killed his estranged wife, then himself, have emerged at an inquest.

John Zurick, 67, shot Deborah, 56, twice in the back at their home on an estate owned by Prime Minister Boris Johnson's father, Stanley.

Zurick died in hospital five days later, yesterday's hearing revealed.

At the time of the tragedy, Princess Anne said she was "saddened" to hear of the death of friend Mrs Zurick.

The Princess is president of the Working Clumber Spaniel Society, of which Mrs Zurick was honorary secretary.

Mrs Zurick, who had moved in with a new partner in Ireland, had returned to the cottage in Winsford, Exmoor, on February 22 last year with friend Elizabeth Murphy, for some items. In a police interview, Ms Murphy said a visibly upset Zurick made tea before he and his wife talked in private.

Mrs Zurick told her friend it was "intense" and they should return the next day but needed to walk the dogs.

Her husband said he would go with her.

An "agitated" Zurick later returned with a shotgun over his arm, telling Ms Murphy: "I've shot Debbie...you can f*** off."

He dragged her into stables used as kennels and, after a failed attempt to kill himself in his car, he told her: "I'm going to shoot myself. Please tell everyone I'm sorry. If I can't have her, no one can."

Ms Murphy heard a muffled bang before escaping and finding Mrs Zurick's body.

Police found Zurick sat against a wall with a sawn-off shotgun. Somerset coroner Tony Williams concluded Mrs Zurick was unlawfully killed by her husband, who then died by suicide.

VICTIM: Deborah Zurick was Working Clumber Spaniel Society Secretary

The inquest heard Zurick had alcohol issues and police revoked his gun licence following a drink-driving arrest in January last year.

He later told a gamekeeper he still had two shotguns and ammunition.

Harry Dunn's parents fly to US to pursue justice against son's alleged killer

■ "We would travel to the end of the Earth and back if that is what it takes," says dead teenager's mother

THE parents of teenage motorcyclist Harry Dunn have flown to America to give evidence as part of a damages claim against their son's alleged killer.

Charlotte Charles and Tim Dunn flew to Washington on Sunday ahead of the "deposition" process, which is due to begin later this week.

Mr Dunn's parents will face lawyers acting on behalf of suspect Anne Sacoolas, who left the UK claiming diplomatic immunity following the 19-year-old's death in August 2019.

The 43-year-old was charged with causing death by dangerous driving, but an extradition request was rejected by the US State Department in January last year.

Sacoolas will also be required to give legal testimony by July 23 as part of the civil claim.

Ms Charles said: "We would travel to the end of the Earth and back if that is what it takes.

"We are flying out to the United States once again in pursuit of justice for our son."

The civil claim is one of a number of legal processes the Dunn family has entered into. Earlier this month, Foreign Secretary

DETERMINED: Charlotte Charles and Tim Dunn

Dominic Raab said the path was now clear for the UK to push for a form of "virtual trial or process" in the case.

Mr Dunn said: "It's daunting being involved in any court case but this is all about our suffering since we lost Harry. We will do whatever it takes to get justice."

Officers arrested the man in Oxford Circus, close to Regent Street, at about 20:00 local time.

Another man who was treated at the scene for stab wounds was taken to hospital where he remains in a critical condition, Scotland Yard said.

The arrested man is being treated for a non-life threatening head injury, the force said.

A London Ambulance Service spokesperson said: "We treated a man at the scene for stab wounds and took him by road to a major trauma centre."

If you have previously received a discharge in bankruptcy, you may have been released from personal liability for this debt in which case this notice is intended to exercise the secured party's rights against the real property only. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER AND ALL OTHER INTERESTED PARTIES: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether this sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 916-939-0772 or visit this internet website: www.nationwideposting.com using the file number assigned to this case: S19-12018. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the internet website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (916) 939-0772 or visit this internet website www.nationwideposting.com using the file number assigned to this case S19-12018 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. IMPORTANT NOTICE: Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, the sale shall be subject to the following as provided in California Civil Code Section 5715: "A non-judicial foreclosure sale by an association to collect upon a debt for delinquent assessments shall be subject to a right of redemption. The redemption period within which the separate interest may be redeemed from a foreclosure sale under this paragraph ends 90 days after the sale." # English wins and British parties... such bliss!

This past week has been a rather thrilling one for England fans hasn't it!

I don't think anyone I spoke to honestly expected the Three Lions to win that match against Germany, but we did and 2-0 to boot! I am not going to say much more on this as don't want to jinx it but I will be proudly wearing my England shirt for the next game.

We have put together a list of many of the bars that show the football over on our Facebook page and our blog, which can be viewed at www.Britsin.LA

I had a couple of more exciting 'firsts' earlier this week too. I went to the movies, for the first time since February 2020! Not just any movie, but the premiere of Amazon Studios latest offering The Tomorrow War, starring Chris Pratt. It was held outdoors at the Banc of California Stadium (the home of LAFC), the perfect location for me to dip my toes into sitting with a crowd of strangers. The film was ridiculously fun and action packed, full of monsters, explosions and big guns (both Chris Pratt's and the weapon kind). Best of all, for a whole two hours I forgot about the craziness going on in the outside world. I highly recommend it for those of you who are looking to escape from it all for an evening - it's available to watch on Amazon Prime from July 2nd. My favourite partner in crime and co-founder of Brits in LA, Craig Young, joined me for the evening.

We have not seen each other in person since we celebrated our birthdays at a socially distanced outdoor dinner back in October. Thanks to the speedy vaccination program we even got to hug! It was such a lovely feeling and definitely something I won't take for granted any more.

Our friends at the British American Business Council of Los Angeles held their first in person event last week, and by all accounts it was a huge success. Sadly neither Craig nor I could make it due to work commitments but Brits in LA & BABCLA member, Frank L'e Sanford went along and reported back for us (following this column). I think we can all hear Frank's excitement at finally being able to attend a proper party? It really does put things into perspective doesn't it. All of those meetings, events, hugs and celebrations we took for granted pre-pandemic are now the highlights of our lives. Lets try and hang on to that appreciation as it is one of the only good things to come out of this catastrophic year (and a half!)

If you have any questions or comments or want to share your stories of your new adventures please drop us an email at info@britsin.la

We always love hearing from you.

Cheers!
Eileen

FRANK AND FRIENDS: there was laughs aplenty at the BABC shindig

It was a truly wonderful evening seeing, hugging, bantering, flirting and laughing with unmasked but fully vaxxed friends, acquaintances and colleagues once again, over cocktails and hors d'oeuvres.

The 200 tickets sold quickly and every single one of the pent-up party-goers, seemed to relish being dressed up, mingling and having social fun once again.

We welcomed our new British Consul General, Emily Cloke and the USA Olympic Rugby Team (so what could possibly go wrong!) before they fly to Tokyo, for the Super Spreader Olympics.

Top raffle prize was two Virgin Upper Class return tickets LAX to London, won by our own Gillian Campbell, who's so well loved, that we all cheered and the crowd were obviously delighted that she won. I'd have been even happier if I'd won, but didn't, despite using my usual raffle-winning techniques.

BACK TOGETHER: BiLA founders Craig and Eileen met in person for the first time since October

What a swell party it was, and will live long in the memory, as Los Angeles's reopening event.

RUSSELL BRAND: another very clever Brit on YouTube.

Internet picks: Russell Brand on England vs Germany, and wee Miss Punny Pennie for some braw Scottish gab on the 'Tok

A COUPLE OF items caught our interest this week on the internet which are worth your attention: for a cerebral but absorbing take on why England vs Germany football matches matter so much, check out Russell Brand's channel on YouTube. Brand goes into the history and shared emotion of this fixture, and makes a convincing argument that the beautiful game between two old adversaries provides a welcome break from the harsh individualism and cynicism of the modern world, claiming that the event provides all the ingredients of great art, 'majesty and tragedy and pain and suffering. It's so powerful that you can't deny it," he says, and we are inclined to agree.

For all his breakneck delivery and dropped 'aitches', the actor, comic and writer is clearly one of the brightest Brits in entertainment and his take on everything – from God, atheism and vaccine passports, to Britney Spears, therapy and spirituality are always worth watching.

And for those you delving into the world of TikTok, check out Len Pennie (@misspunnypennie), a braw Scottish lass who takes a charming and humorous dive into Scottish words and their meanings. We're grateful to St Andrews Society of Los Angeles for the tip, which this week led us to the word 'hap', verb meaning to cover, conceal, enrobe or shield, which is usually used in the context of clothing providing warmth. As in A'm weel hapt an a'm gonnæ corrie doon (I'm covered up and I'm going to snuggle). All information we really can't live without.

Edgar Wright dives deep into the Sparks Brothers

ONE of the many joys of the world returning to normal is that we can all start going back to the movies again and a good place to start would be the Landmark Theatres on Pico Boulevard in Westwood, who are currently showing The Sparks Brothers, the debut documentary from acclaimed English director Edgar Wright – he of Shaun of the Dead and Hot Fuzz fame.

Sparks are the influential and long-running American pop duo comprised of brothers Ron and Russell Mael, who grew up in Pacific Palisades before moving to the UK in the 1970s, where they shot to fame in 1974 with the huge hit "This Town Ain't Big Enough for Both of Us". Their appeal was often their uniqueness, with vocalist Russell's hyperactive movements in sharp contrast to the keyboard-bound, soberly dressed Ron's expressionless squint and Chaplin-esque moustache.

The pair continued to make offbeat, quirky and theatrical music ever since, most notably partnering with Georgio Moroder for the 1979 disco hit "The Number One Song in Heaven" and in 1997 working with Faith No More, Erasure and Jimmy Somerville on the album Plagiarism. Among their other long list of credits is the 1998 soundtrack for the action film Knock Off starring Jean Claude Van Damme and they even partnered with Franz Ferdinand in 2015 for the supergroup FFS.

This new documentary asks the questions: how can one rock band be successful, underrated, hugely influential, and criminally overlooked all at the same time? The movie features commentary from celebrity fans including Flea, Jane Wiedlin, Beck, Jack Antonoff, Jason Schwartzman, Neil Gaiman, and more, takes audiences on a musical odyssey through five weird and wonderful decades with Sparks. It's well worth catching while you can.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: TOSHIHIKO SATO CASE NO. 21STPB06018

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of TOSHIHIKO SATO.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by RICHARD W. SHARPE in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that RICHARD W. SHARPE be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 07/23/21 at 8:30AM in Dept. 11 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

KANE:

Not only is there the public expectation but there is an inherent desire and drive that centre-forwards have.

"Even if you win the game they don't score and they are irritated – they cannot help it – that is the mindset of the top players. So it will have been a perfect day for him.

"He wants the team to win more than anything else but for the team to win and him to score, without a doubt that will put a big smile on his face."

Kane rated his header against Germany among his very best for his country, saying: "It was definitely up there as one of my favourite moments in an England shirt – and one of my favourite goals.

"I'd dreamed about playing for England my whole life, so scoring on my debut at Wembley holds a close place in my heart.

And the late winner against Tunisia in the World Cup was the same sort of scenes but away from home.

"The one yesterday has to go pretty much top of the list, really. It was a great occasion."

Kane set up England's display with a heartfelt speech to the players just before they walked out at Wembley – which one member of the support staff said left him with "goosebumps".

"I just spoke from the heart," Kane told the FA's in-house Lions' Den Youtube programme.

"I won't go into too much detail – hopefully if we can go all the way I can share a few. But it is something I enjoy doing and something we have done for a while as a team – whoever is captain on the day will speak.

"I don't need to get everybody up for it because they are ready to go. But we will get in a little huddle before we leave – it is just a last message."

United sign £73m Sancho

Manchester United say they are "delighted" after agreeing a fee in principle of 85m euros (£73m) with Borussia Dortmund for Jadon Sancho.

The 21-year-old England winger is expected to sign a five-year contract with the option of a sixth. He will finalise terms and complete a medical after his Euro 2020 campaign.

The fee, payable over five equal instalments, will see Sancho become the second most expensive English player of all time behind Harry Maguire.

Defender Maguire joined United from Leicester for £80m in 2019.

Manchester City are due 15% of the profit Dortmund will make on Sancho, who joined the Bundesliga club from the Blues for £10m four years ago. That equates to about £9.5m.

The deal brings to an end a long chase for the Londoner. United expected to sign him last summer but could not agree a fee.

Sancho scored 50 goals and registered 57 assists in 137 appearances for Dortmund, scoring twice in the German Cup final to help the Bundesliga side to a 4-1 victory over RB Leipzig in May.

He has won 20 caps for England since making his international debut in 2018, scoring three goals, and was named in the Bundesliga Team of the Season in 2018-19 and 2019-20.

United boss Ole Gunnar Solskjaer has identified four key positions he wants to improve as they look to build on their progress last season.

Solskjaer is now targeting a central defender as the next part of his recruitment.

Rafa in at Everton

Everton have appointed former Liverpool boss Rafael Benitez as their new manager.

The 61-year-old Spaniard has signed a three-year deal and succeeds Carlo Ancelotti, who resigned in early June to return to Real Madrid.

"I am delighted to be joining Everton," said Benitez.

"I believe this is a club that is going places. I'm determined to play a big part in helping this great club achieve its ambitions."

Benitez last managed in the Premier League at Newcastle United, leaving in June 2019.

He moved to China to coach Dalian Professional FC and left them in January after 18 months in charge.

Everton say Benitez "will commence work with the squad when they return for pre-season training from 5 July".

The club said he was given the job "after a robust and wide-reaching recruitment process over the last three weeks - a process which has included multiple interviews with several candidates".

Everton majority shareholder Farhad Moshiri said: "Rafa impressed us greatly with his knowledge and experience but, above all, the passion and hunger he showed to join our club.

"We are appointing Rafa because we believe he will bring success to our club and to Evertonians. To put it simply - we need to be competing at the top end of the league and to be winning trophies.

"Rafa is a proven winner with huge experience in coaching internationally and we have secured the best man to achieve that for us."

Spurs finally end managerial hunt as Nuno takes hot seat

Tottenham have appointed former Wolves boss Nuno Espirito Santo as their new manager on a two-year contract.

Nuno left Wolves in May after four impressive seasons, during which time he took the club from the Championship to a Europa League quarter-final.

Spurs sacked Jose Mourinho in April and replaced him with 29-year-old Ryan Mason until the end of last season.

"It's an enormous pleasure and honour [to be at Spurs]. I'm happy and looking forward to starting work," said Nuno.

"We don't have any days to lose and we must start working immediately as pre-season starts in a few days."

Nuno will not have long to wait to face his former club as Spurs have a trip to Molineux to face Wolves in their second league game of the season on 22 August.

Whether he will have 27-year-old striker Harry Kane available remains to be seen.

Robert Page is the "right guy" to remain Wales boss for the World Cup qualifiers says ex-manager Mark Hughes.

Page guided Wales to the last 16 of Euro 2020 having been in charge since November in the

The England captain said in May that he hopes to have "a good, honest conversation" with Spurs chairman Daniel Levy about his future.

Tottenham have brought in Nuno after Mauricio Pochettino, Antonio Conte, Paulo Fonseca and Gennaro Gattuso were linked with the job this summer.

Spurs made contact with Paris St-Germain boss Pochettino about the possibility of the Argentine returning to manage them but the French club were not prepared to let him go.

Former Chelsea boss Conte appeared set for the role, having left Inter Milan after leading them to the Serie A title, only for talks between the Italian and Spurs to break down.

Ex-Roma manager Fonseca then thought he was taking over, only to be dumped in favour of Gattuso, who was quickly rejected when fans reacted badly to the existence of social media posts which brought the Italian's commitment to inclusivity into question.

Nuno won the 2017-18

Championship title in his first season with Wolves before leading them to seventh in the Premier League in the following two seasons, while they finished 13th last season.

"We should like to thank our supporters for all their patience throughout this process," said Levy.

"I've spoken already about the need to revert back to our core DNA of playing attacking, entertaining football, and [managing director of football] Fabio [Paratici] and I believe Nuno is the man who can take our talented group of players, embrace our young players coming through and build something special."

Paratici left his role as Juventus' long-serving chief football officer to take on his role at Spurs earlier this month.

"You only have to look at Nuno's time at Wolves to see his ability to take a group of players and implement an adaptive style that brings success and allows players to develop and thrive," he said.

absence of Ryan Giggs.

Giggs will go on trial in January accused of headbutting his ex-girlfriend and controlling her, which he denies.

"I don't anticipate there will be any radical changes or any appointments," Hughes said.

"I feel Pagey is the right guy at the right time at the moment. I don't think there should be any question about his position."

FOOTBALL: England in buoyant mood following historic 2-0 win over Germans

KIERAN TRIPPIER says England are scared of no one in their battle to become kings of Europe.

The Three Lions banished decades of demons on Tuesday night with an historic win over Germany at Wembley in the last 16 of the Euros.

The landmark triumph could prove to be a watershed moment for the team and their ever-popular manager Gareth Southgate, who is in the frame for a new contract that will take him past the next World Cup. England now face a quarter-final clash with Ukraine in Rome on Saturday, with either Switzerland or Czech Republic waiting in the semis back on home soil should Southgate's men advance.

The nation is daring to dream again and Trippier believes that those hoping to make all of them come true have become fearless after dispensing with the Germans.

The Atletico Madrid star said: "We were fearless throughout the game – from start to finish.

"We knew we had to match them up, man for man, because they are a fantastic team and you have to give them a lot of respect. The game was about us being clinical.

"We knew they were going to press us so it was about how we managed the ball. I thought we did that very well.

"OK, at times we were sloppy and they had a couple of counter attacks and could have scored. But it's about being clinical – and I thought we were."

England have still to concede a goal in the tournament and Trippier believes this is because his side have a world-class keeper in the shape of Jordan Pickford.

The Everton stopper has been criticized at club level, but he has never let England down, and Trippier said: "People might have come for him in a way over the past two years, but he deserves a lot of credit.

"His mental strength is unbelievable. The amount of saves he's pulled off – in vital moments as well, in the group stages and against Germany – he deserves a lot of credit because, for me, he's a world-class keeper."

Trippier also heaped praise on captain Harry Kane, above, who broke his tournament duck in the 2-0 win. He said: "Harry deserves it. I've stuck by him and all the team have. He's been unbelievable.

"I've said this before, but if he's not scoring, please just watch what he does for the team.

"He works so hard. I'm so happy for him, as everybody is. His goals will come, just believe in him."

England are now favourites with some bookies to go on and win the Euros, but Trippier has urged caution ahead of the showdown with Ukraine in Rome on Saturday night.

He added: "This was a massive game. "You see what it means to the fans and for us players also. "It's a huge victory. We celebrate it, but not too much because we've not won anything.

"It was a huge step towards our goal, so we have to enjoy it, but then recover because there is another game around the corner."

Southgate backs Harry to come good

GARETH SOUTHGATE believes Harry Kane's first goal in the tournament could open the floodgates for the final stages of Euro 2020.

Kane scored the second goal in the 2-0 win against Germany on Tuesday and described it as the best of his England career. And now the England manager thinks his captain can light up the rest of the tournament, starting with their quarter-final clash against Ukraine on Saturday.

"I played with Alan Shearer and I remember the change in him once he got that first goal at Euro 1996," said Southgate. "I had been with him before when he played in China and it was another game without a goal.

"You could sense how it was for him, so that will be a high release for Harry, there is no question about that.

"The life of a centre-forward is a lot of pressure.
