DUCHESS TELLS COURT SHE DID BRIEF AIDE OVER BIOGRAPHY

EXPLOSIVE NEW EVIDENCE: MEGHAN SAYS SHE 'FORGOT'

The Duchess of Sussex has apologised to a court for making a misleading statement in her privacy case against the Mail on Sunday's publishers.

This week the Appeal Court heard she had asked an aide to pass on information to the authors of a biography - despite having earlier said she "did not contribute".

Meghan said she had forgotten the events and had not intended to mislead.

Associated Newspapers is trying to overturn a ruling after it published a letter from the duchess to her father.

Meghan, 40, won her privacy case against the publisher of the Mail on Sunday earlier this year, when the High Court found its publication of the letter was unlawful.

Associated

Newspapers' legal team are now seeking to overturn this judgement at the Court of Appeal, disputing that this was simply a private and personal letter - and have argued that it was crafted with the "possibility of public consumption" in mind.

'discussed directly'

A spokesman for the Sussexes had previously said the couple "did not contribute" to the Finding Freedom biography, written by Omid Scobie and Carolyn Durand.

But in new evidence heard on Wednesday, Jason Knauf, the couple's former communications secretary, said the book was "discussed on a routine basis" and "discussed directly with the duchess multiple times in person and over email".

He also discussed planning a meeting with the authors to provide background information and said Meghan had given him briefing points to share with them, including information on how she had "very minimal contact" with her half-siblings during her childhood.

In the second day of the appeal hearing, lawyers for Associated Newspapers had also challenged the extent to which the letter from Meghan to her father - at

The court heard Prince Harry, - pictured with Meghan in New York on Wednesday - had said the couple needed to be able to deny any involvement in briefing the authors the centre of the case it is trying to overturn - was "private".

They quoted an exchange of text messages between the duchess and Mr Knauf in which Meghan said: "Obviously everything I have drafted is with the understanding that it could be leaked, so I have been meticulous in my word choice."

'right context'

Mr Knauf's evidence to the court also included emails with the Duke of Sussex, discussing the proposed meeting with the authors and the need to conceal any involvement by Prince Harry and Meghan.

The former aide said Prince Harry replied: "I totally agree that we have to be able to say we didn't have anything to do with cont. on page 3, col. 1

NHS crisis: 'tens of thousands' could quit over job mandate

■ Fears for mass exodus of personnel as Sajid Javid confirms NHS England workers must be fully jabbed by April

Thirty-two thousand care home staff and tens of thousands of NHS personnel could quit over the government's insistence that both workforces get vaccinated against Covid, the government was warned this week.

The warning came as Sajid Javid confirmed that health service workers in England will have to be fully jabbed by next April or risk being sacked. The move will bring the NHS into line with the care home sector, in which staff have until Thursday to prove that they have had two doses.

The health secretary appeared to disclose to MPs when making the announcement about the NHS that, with Thursday's deadline for care home staff imminent, as many as 32,000 of them have still not yet been jabbed.

The Conservative MP Mark Harper, a former government chief whip, told Javid that 32,000 was "a very significant number". He also asked the government to publish "a plan to deal with what sounds like will be something like tens of thousands of NHS staff who, if the care home workforce is any precedent, are going to end up leaving the national health service".

The minister replied that the number of care home staff was accurate: "The 32,000 number he's referred to, I would just point out that was the latest number that we had - it's a published number - at the end of last month." But it might include potentially thousands of people who are medically exempt, he added.

Javid said staff such as doctors and nurses "carry a unique responsibility" to keep patients safe. Workers who deliver personal care services in people's homes will also have to be vaccinated.

"I have concluded that all those working in the NHS and social care will have to be vaccinated. We must avoid preventable harm, and protect patients in the NHS, protect colleagues in the NHS and of course protect the NHS itself," he told MPs.

opposition

The only exceptions among the NHS workforce will be for those who are medically exempt from being vaccinated and those who have no face-to-face contact with patients.

Javid decided to press ahead with making jobs mandatory despite health unions and some organisations representing doctors voicing strong opposition. He had been warned that compulsion would lead to an exodus of NHS staff who have chosen not to get immunised.

"Concerns [were raised] that some people may choose to leave their posts if we went ahead with this. [But] I have carefully considered the responses and the evidence and I've concluded that the scales clearly tip on one side," he told the Commons on Tuesday.

Javid said that while 90% of NHS staff had already had both jabs, about 103,000 have not, and in some trusts only 80% have been double-vaccinated. Many are younger women who are or hope to become pregnant, or those from a minority ethnic background.

He considered imposing the new legal duty of vaccination on NHS personnel before this winter. But he opted to delay it until April 2022 after warnings from hospital groups NHS Providers and the NHS Confederation that doing that sooner would exacerbate understaffing by triggering an exodus of staff at the time when the health service is under its greatest pressure.

chief executive of NHS Providers, said: "Had the policy been introduced any sooner, we would have risked worsening the NHS's current workforce shortages at a time when the health service is already under huge operational pressure. This could have posed a risk to the quality of care we were able to provide."

Javid said that a statement about the impact of the move to mandatory jabs would be published later on Tuesday but that a full impact assessment would be made public "later".

'persuasion'

Other countries including France, Italy and the US have already made vaccination compulsory, he added. Some hospitals in the US have recently fired small numbers of employees after they refused to get immunised.

The union Unison, which represents both NHS and care home staff, said there would be "dire consequences" for care homes from Javid's "draconian approach".

"The staffing crisis will become a catastrophe for a sector already on its knees. Some homes may have to close if care staff are barred from their jobs. Forcing the vaccine on care staff is an own goal by the government," said Christina McAnea, Unison's general secretary. Take-up rates would only increase with "persuasion, not punishment", she added.

Rashford was honored by the prince in front of his mother Melanie this week

Rashford dedicates MBE to mum...

Footballer Marcus Rashford has dedicated his MBE to his mother and vowed to continue his campaigning to help vulnerable children.

The Manchester United and England striker was honoured by the Duke of Cambridge at Windsor Castle earlier.

The 24-year-old has been recognised for his drive to ensure no child in need went hungry during the pandemic.

He said he would give his MBE to his mum Melanie Maynard, who has previously spoken about her family's struggles.

Ms Maynard, who raised Rashford and his four siblings while working full-time on minimum wage, has received recognition for her own work around food poverty, which saw a foodbank warehouse named in her honour.

Speaking after the ceremony, the striker said he would be giving his MBE for services to vulnerable children to his mother and would continue to campaign to "give children the things I didn't have when I was kid".

UK KNIFE HORROR: 15 year old schoolboy stabbed friend 70 TIMES in frenzied attack

A 15 YEAR OLD BOY has been jailed for at least 16 years for murdering a schoolfriend by stabbing him more than 70 times.

Lincoln Crown Court heard that Marcel Grzeszcz, 15, also tried to behead Roberts Buncis, 12, before leaving his body in local woodland.

The murder took place on 12 December last year, two days before the victim's 13th birthday.

It has since emerged that Grzeszcz was expelled after he had taken a knife into St Nicholas Primary School in Boston, Lincolnshire, and threatened a girl with it.

decapitate

A mother who used to take Roberts to school with her children told The Sun: "It's not his first incident with a knife. When he was at primary school, he took one into class to threaten other kids. He threatened a girl with it and was excluded."

The court heard that Grzeszcz, who was 14 at the time of the attack, lured Roberts to meeting him in a residential street near where they both lived by offering him £50 to sell cannabis.

He then stabbed him "in excess of 70 times", the court heard.

A pathologist said that wounds to the neck and arm indicated that he was trying to decapitate Roberts, as well as cut off his hands. Roberts was also stabbed in the chest and abdomen.

Grzeszcz, who had been expelled from secondary school and sent to a pupil referral unit for dealing drugs, has claimed that he "lost control" after Roberts allegedly pulled the knife on him.

The victim, who came to live in the UK with his father from Latvia when he was seven, was found the day after the attack. Grzeszcz was charged with murder the following day.

On Monday Grzeszcz was jailed for a minimum of 16 years and his identity – which had not been publicised due to his age – was revealed after the judge lifted reporting restrictions.

'utterly senseless'

Mr Justice Jeremy Baker warned the boy that he may never be released as he had shown no remorse.

He added that the crime was further aggravated

I had not remembered these exchanges at the time," she said.

"I had absolutely no wish or intention to mislead the defendant or the court."

stress

The duchess added that she would have been "more than happy" to refer to the exchanges with Mr Knauf if she had been aware of them at the time, but said they were "a far cry from the very detailed personal information that the defendant alleges that I wanted or permitted to put into the public domain".

Another reason the duchess gave for not discovering the emails between her and Mr Knauf sooner was that the disclosure stage of the litigation had not yet been reached, and in October last year her lawyers applied to adjourn the trial date as she was pregnant.

She said she was advised to avoid stress after a recent miscarriage, which came shortly after Associated Newspapers Limited indicated it wished to reveal the identities of her five friends who gave an interview to the US magazine People, in which they referred to her relationship with her father.

KILLER: Marcel Grzeszcz has shown no remorse for actions by Grzeszcz's attempts to destroy the clothes he wore on the day of the murder and hide the blade with a collection of other knives he owned in his bedroom.

Grzeszcz often carried a knife at secondary school, a pupil told the court.

Prosecuting lawyer Mary Loram QC said Grzeszcz intended to rob a shop at knife-point to get cash to set himself up as a cannabis dealer, and was believed to have feared that Roberts would "snitch" on him.

He messaged another boy saying "Rob's a liability", to which he received a message saying "if he snitch, smack time".

In court after Grzeszcz was sentenced, Roberts' father Edgars Buncis's statement was read out.

He said: "How do I put into words how I feel? This is all wrong. No father should ever have to bury his son.

"I have lost my destination, my purpose. My life is in the cemetery. I feel empty, nothing will change this."

Detective Chief Inspector Richard Myszczyzyn, of the East Midlands Special Operations Unit, said: "This is an utterly tragic case."

He also said: "The act was utterly senseless and the consequences, devastating. It will be remembered by officers and staff as one of the worst and saddest cases we have ever dealt with.

"The level of violence, and that it involved children, makes it almost incomprehensible."

"Equally, you giving the right context and background to them would help get some truths out there."

In a witness statement to the court the duchess said she accepted that her aide did provide information to the authors of the book with her knowledge but she said the "extent of the information he shared is unknown to me".

"When I approved the passage... I did not have the benefit of seeing these emails and I apologise to the court for the fact that

Wife's tribute to 'wonderful father', 57, killed by shark

"Rest in peace, Paul. He died (doing) what he enjoyed doing the most, which was exercising," said the victim's wife.

A HEARTBROKEN wife has paid tribute to her husband, believed killed by a shark off Australia's west coast.

Paul Millachip, 57, who emigrated to Australia several years ago, was attacked while swimming at Port Beach near Perth on Saturday.

His wife, who did not wish to be named, described the father-of-two as "a wonderful man" who loved exercise.

Speaking to Australian broadcasters, she paid tribute to the teenagers who helped raise the alarm.

"I also just wanted to say thank you to all of our friends here in Perth for all the support and love that you've shown us," she added.

The couple are believed to have settled in Perth years ago; both their families are currently overseas.

Mr Millachip was a regular at the beach and a pair of goggles believed to belong to him have now been recovered.

"Rest in peace, Paul. He died (doing) what he enjoyed doing the most, which was exercising," his wife said.

She thanked eyewitnesses and praised the police and emergency services.

"It came out of the blue. But it did happen, you just have to deal with it," she added.

Acting inspector Troy Douglas said: "Enquiries will continue based on anything that is washed up or anything that's found in the future, but at this point the marine search is suspended."

At press time authorities had not determined whether the attack was by one shark or two. Several eyewitnesses spoke of seeing two dorsal fins in the water immediately prior to the attack, with at least one eyewitness saying he saw both a Great White and a tiger shark circling the victim.

Gerald Sinstadt, former BBC and ITV football commentator, dies aged 91

■ Broadcaster was best known for work within football

Gerald Sinstadt, one of the most instantly recognizable television sports voices as a commentator for BBC and ITV for more than 40 years, has died at the age of 91.

The versatile broadcaster, who covered golf as well as the Olympics, will be chiefly remembered for his football commentaries, first for Granada TV in the north-west in the 1970s and also with the BBC where in 1989 he was famously its pitchside reporter on the day of the Hillsborough disaster.

Sinstadt was one of the first commentators to criticise the racist abuse black players suffered, including during a West Bromwich Albion 5-3 victory over Manchester United at Old Trafford in 1978 when Cyrille Regis and Laurie Cunningham scored the crucial goals.

His path to broadcasting might not have happened but for a cruel twist of fate involving his parents.

"I can do this"

Sinstadt, born in 1930, was the only child of shopkeepers in Folkestone and was evacuated during the second world war. Later, reflecting on the tragic death of the pair in a German air raid, he said: "I can still remember my teacher taking me out of class to tell me the news. I have wondered what might have been if my parents had survived. Who knows, I may have followed my dad and become a shopkeeper."

The young Sinstadt made his first live commentary in 1949 for forces radio after his conscription into national service and was rewarded with a 7-6 cup game between an English and Scottish regiment.

"The game made my job easy and I thought: 'Hang on, I can do this,'" recalled Sinstadt.

"Unfortunately, I soon realised you couldn't just turn up on the day and hope for the best. If you don't do your proper research the listener will soon catch you out."

cultured man

After time on BBC radio and Anglia Television, Sinstadt's informed but distinctively dry style became a feature of Granada TV's Kick Off preview and of highlights shows on ITV from 1969 to 1981 when he became the station's full-time

LONG CAREER: Sinstadt was a leading commentator for more than 40 years, and was pitchside for the BBC at the 1989 Hillsborough disaster football commentator. Sinstadt described the iconic moment Denis Law scored a cheeky backheel goal for Manchester City as his former club Manchester United were relegated to the then second division, telling viewers: "Dennis has done it!"

A cultured man with a passion for opera, he worked on programmes covering that art form as well as branching out to commentate on golf for Channel 4 when he left Granada TV before returning to the BBC in the mid-1980s to become a regular on Match of the Day, Football Focus and Final Score until his retirement.

Sinstadt settled in the Potteries after his retirement and wrote a weekly column for the Stoke Sentinel until 2019.

Diana Ross to play 'legends' slot at Glastonbury festival 2022

■ Pop and disco star will finally play festival she was due to perform at in 2020 before Covid pandemic forced cancellation

Diana Ross has been confirmed to play Glastonbury in 2022, more than two years since she was first announced to play the festival's Sunday afternoon "legends" slot.

Ross said she was "excited and grateful" to perform there amid the UK tour of her first new album in 15 years, Thank You. She was first announced in October 2019, saying then: "To all my fans across the world, this is my tribute to you. Every concert feels like a private party, I can see your eyes and feel your hearts. I'm coming to Glastonbury, with love."

Festival organiser Emily Eavis said she was "thrilled to be able to let you know that the magnificent Diana Ross is coming to play at Glastonbury next summer".

Ross will be 78 years old when she takes the Pyramid stage, whose crowds often top 100,000 people, making her one of the oldest to perform cont. on page 5, col. 1 there – though that record still belongs to Burt Bacharach, who was 87 when he played in 2015.

With 2020 and 2021's events cancelled due to the Covid-19 pandemic, it is the longest time without a Glastonbury festival since a fallow spell in the late 1970s.

Last year's edition, the festival's 50th anniversary, was due to be headlined by Paul McCartney, Taylor Swift and Kendrick Lamar, but it was cancelled in March as the pandemic worsened. Preparations continued for 2021's event, but it too was cancelled in January.

The festival site was instead used for camping during the summer, and for a one-off livestreamed concert Live at Worthy Farm, featuring sets from Coldplay, Damon Albarn and more.

Billie Eilish has been announced as the first headline act for 2022, playing the Friday night in a concert Eavis described as "the perfect way to return". The festival opens its gates on Wednesday 22 June.

Ross is scheduled to play arena concerts across the UK that month in Manchester, Leeds, Glasgow, Liverpool, Birmingham, London and Durham.

"If I did have, I would have been much better off and had many more options in my life," he said.

"For me, it is a punishment for them not to be getting things like meals or supplies of books."

He said if everyone could "come together" and make "small changes", things could improve for young people.

"I see a generation that is coming after me as a very special generation," he added.

"They just need a bit of guidance and pointing in the right direction and what I am doing is giving them that."

In March 2020, Rashford took to social media to highlight his fears about the impact that shutting schools would have on disadvantaged children.

His subsequent campaigning to ensure no vulnerable child went hungry in the UK resulted in the government changing policy over its free school meals vouchers during lockdown.

Rashford's honour was part of the first face-to-face ceremony Prince William has hosted since the start of the pandemic.

In a tweet, the duke said he was "pleased to be back doing investitures in person" at the castle.

ARIES: This past week or so was filled with new challenges. Of course you are up to it, if you put your mind and energy to it. It's been quiet for a while past, but can start moving forward soon.

TAURUS: You could be feeling overwhelmed by all the setbacks which have come in your path recently. This is not a time to give in but to take care of YOU for a change. The coming holiday season will lighten up your life in more than one way.

GEMINI: Your boss planet Mercury is moving fast forward now. This has been an time to pull your bootstraps up and get some energy flowing. As always you underestimate your strength of character, it will get you where you want to be in the end.

CANCER: You will have a much more positive start to your week ahead than for some time. Do not give in to any negative thoughts or feelings now. Get down to basics and prepare your ground for planting new positive ideas going forward.

LEO: You should not listen to anyone who tells you to hold back currently. It's time to take a positive attitude to everything regardless of how it may appear. You are likely feeling pressure and possibly feeling indecisive. Best to just go with the flow.

VIRGO: Your boss Mercury moving faster now will lift your spirits. So do not hold back from setting your plans up for the next week or so. You should be cautious but not stagnant. It's just a matter of time in the end.

LIBRA: You can still make plans just do not act on them yet. If you are cautious for another week or so it will be worth the wait. Your boss Venus in your financial area now will guarantee a good outcome in the end.

SCORPIO: Life has its ups and downs and it has not been at all easy for several weeks now especially in family areas. This is a time to plant only positive seeds you want to grow into fruitful outcomes. Financially it is a positive time. Happy Birthday!

SAGITTARIUS: Your health (mental or physical) has been dragging you down somewhat of late. Take a chance on being open and just stopping all the mind chatter and let life take you along for the ride. Better things will come to you as a result. Happy Birthday.

CAPRICORN: For some of you regardless of your situation in life it's time to take time out. Stress is not uncommon given your current life situation. So for all of you good souls just break away from routine and do not be afraid to be alone and you will feel stronger.

AQUARIUS: This will be a time going forward for a couple of weeks to take stock of your finances and how you can give them a boost. It is totally possible for you to take a leap of faith and go with your gut to improve this.

PISCES: Life can be a little emotional currently and you should not try to do too much other than just move through it. This too shall pass and all will be more peaceful sooner than you think - so be sure you take some time to be alone.

Brits in LA

Make those miles count! The Points Partner can show you how...

Regular readers may recognize this weeks contributor and fellow Brit in LA Owen Beiny, as not only has he been featured in our Meet a Member section, but also regularly comments and posts on our Facebook forum sharing invaluable travel tips amongst our community.

Eagle-eyed readers may have also spotted him recently on Good Morning America's 'What You Need To Know' segment earlier this month, advising viewers on how to maximize those airmiles/ credit card points we all start to gather...but very rarely seem to be able to use.

Seeing as so many of you are frequent flyers

- or planning to be now that the borders are finally opening up - we thought you would appreciate hearing from The Points Partner himself and learn a few of his tricks for getting the most out of your miles.

FLY TO BLIGHTY IN BUSINESS FOR FREE
I'm Owen Beiny - a fellow Brit in LA. I've lived here since 2005.

For the last 16 years I've been flying around the world on a flat bed using credit card points and air miles, and I have now made it my mission to help others do the same by teaching them how to maximize their credit card benefits.

As expats, we all feel that constant pull of being torn between LA and our loved ones back home. But as we all know, jetting back and forth to the UK ain't cheap and it's not as simple as jumping on an EasyJet flight for fifty quid.

Long Haul flights are expensive - even more now as airlines desperately try to recuperate the huge losses they incurred from the pandemic.

Imagine waking up one day and having the freedom to just pop home for a long weekend knowing it's not only going to cost you nothing, but you get to do it in comfort and in style.

That's exactly what I did! During a weekly Facetime call with my mum, she moaned, "It's all very well and good you live in LA but you can't pop over for a cup of tea."

Twelve hours later, I knocked on her door and said, 'I thought I'd pop over for a cuppa.' Let's just say it was worth the crippling jet lag and swapping the LA sunshine for the pouring rain.

I've ensured that living 6,000 miles away from my loved ones is that much easier - as well as being able to travel the rest of the world too.

It sounds good to be true I know, but it's not and I can show you how. You don't have to have a six-figure salary or have an extravagant lifestyle. It's about spending smarter and maximizing those points and air miles.

The average American gets back under one per cent of what they spend off their credit card. If it's done correctly, it can be closer to ten percent.

There's a huge misconception about points. People think they're not worth much, but if you learn how to use them correctly, they can be worth seven times the amount by transferring them to the airlines' frequent travel programs and booking at the right prices. However you cannot win at a game if you don't know the rules of the game. That is why I have spent 20 years reading the small print and knowing the rules.

When you fly on mileage tickets, you have to pay taxes. The UK's airport taxes are the highest in the world, so if you fly round trip

BABC LA Xmas Bash set for December 10th

The British American Business Council will hold their annual Christmas Lunch on Friday, December 10th in Santa Monica.

The famed Starlight Ballroom of the Fairmont Miramar will be transformed by a spirited Christmas celebration, featuring special guest Malcolm McDowell.

This festive event has become a favorite with the British and American communities in Los Angeles over the past three decades. Each year it draws hundreds of guests, including the British Consul General, local political figures, and leaders from the business and entertainment communities.

Festivities begin at 11.30am with a hosted champagne reception and expansive silent auction. Followed by a traditional sit-down British Christmas Luncheon, complete with all the trimmings, accompanied by first-rate entertainment.

Covid note: all Fairmont

Miramar staff are fully vaccinated and will wear masks. In common areas of the hotel, guests must wear face coverings at all times (including in, and on the way to, restrooms). In order to enter, all guests must provide proof of vaccination or show negative results from a Covid test administered not more than 72 hours before the event (12pm Tues. Dec. 7th or later).

Individual tickets are priced at $195. For more details or to book your ticket, visit babcla.org.

This Week's Trivia Contest Winners...

LET'S GET QUIZZICAL: Twelve teams battled for the trivia title at the latest Brits in LA Pub Quiz at a packed Market Tavern.

And while Knightbridge Nannies - pictured (below) with quizmaster Sandro Monetti - ran them close, it was Cock-Up 26 (bottom) who emerged victorious.

Who will be celebrating next time? Join the fun on Tuesday November 16 (7.30pm start) and it could be you. (pictures by Glenn Kinsey).

Start your motors: BritWeek Car Invasion at the Peterson

FANS OF classic British cars will not want to miss the BritWeek Car Invasion of Beverly Hills, happening this Sunday at the Peterson Museum in mid-Wilshire.

The event, on Sunday November 14th is billed as the largest gathering of British iconic cars ever seen in Los Angeles and Beverly Hills. The day kicks off with an 8am BritWeek breakfast at the Museum, with over 250 iconic British cars to be viewed. At 10am the rally begins, and at 11am visitors can view the cars at the Beverly Hills City Hall and the Wallis Annenberg Motorcourt.

Select cars scheduled to appear include Steve McQueen's renowned 1956 Jaguar XKSS, a 1947 Rolls Royce Inskip (one of only two ever made), a 1948 Bentley MK VI Mallalieu Mercia Roadster, and an original 1962 Lotus 7. Plus many classic automobiles from Aston Martin, McLaren, Mini and many more British icons.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: JOHN DONALD MCNEIL AKA JOHN D. MCNEIL CASE NO. 21STPB10346

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of JOHN DONALD MCNEIL AKA JOHN D. MCNEIL.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by DONALD A. LARKIN in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that DONALD A. LARKIN be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 12/09/21 at 8:30AM in Dept. 5 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: BARBARA DEAN AUSBROOKS CASE NO. 21STPB08918

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of BARBARA DEAN AUSBROOKS. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by ROCHELLE NEWBLE in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that ROCHELLE NEWBLE be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take any actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 02/01/22 at 9:30AM in Dept. 11 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

England loss and transfer saga took a toll, admits Kane

England captain Harry Kane says defeat in the European Championships final and summer speculation over his Tottenham future took its toll on him mentally.

The Three Lions were beaten by Italy on penalties at Wembley, while Kane was linked with a move to Manchester City.

Kane also defended brother and agent Charlie's role in the transfer saga.

"You go through the highs and lows of a major tournament, coming so close to a dream and it being taken away from you in such a quick moment," he said.

"Then it was my first summer of transfer speculation and having to deal with those situations. So of course it takes a toll mentally on yourself but from my point of view, I've always had good friends and good family around me.

"Being able to talk to them in those situations. Being able to talk to people you trust. When things are difficult, it's important that you do talk about it and not just hide it in and suck it up.

"But it is important that you have people around you that you can trust to do that. That's what I've done."

Kane's brother's Charlie was criticised for his role in the summer's transfer speculation, with it reported the pair believed Kane had a gentleman's agreement with Spurs chairman Daniel Levy that would allow him to leave the club.

But the 28-year-old says the siblings will always stick together and any outside interferences were just "noise".

"Whatever the circumstance, whenever there is stuff being written about your family, it's always maybe a little bit difficult to take, especially when it's stuff that's negative," he said.

"But I think that's when families really come together during those moments. Obviously I'm very close to my brother and my parents, my wife, her family, so there's plenty of people that I know and trust and am able to talk to.

"It's never easy when there is any negative story about yourself or someone you know, or your friends, or team-mates. That's where we stick together. I know what he does for me as an agent, I know what he does for me as a brother and that's all that matters."

The striker has scored just once in 10 Premier League games this season but does not believe the summer transfer speculation is to blame.

"Well I think from my point of view it's easy for people to try and look for an excuse when maybe you're not on form or you're not scoring as many as you usually do," he said.

Cricket: End of the World for England

ICC Men's T20 World Cup, Abu Dhabi
England 166-4 (20 overs): Moeen 51* (37), Malan 41 (30)
New Zealand 167-5 (19 overs): Mitchell 72* (47), Conway 46 (38)
New Zealand won by five wickets

New Zealand ended England's hopes at the Men's T20 World Cup with a dramatic semi-final victory in Abu Dhabi on Wednesday.

England looked on course for Sunday's final until an assault from Jimmy Neesham swung the game in New Zealand's favour in a thrilling finale.

Neesham smashed three sixes, each a body blow to England's hopes, as the Black Caps' pursuit of 167 was given life.

The all-rounder was caught for 27 from 11 balls in the 18th over but, with 20 needed from 12 balls, opener Daryl Mitchell took on the attack.

He hit Chris Woakes for two sixes, finishing 72 not out from 47 balls as New Zealand won by five wickets with an over to spare.

England cantered through the group stage with four comprehensive wins but their quest to become the first team to hold both the men's 50-overs and T20 World Cups is now over.

New Zealand, beaten in incredible fashion when the sides met in the 2019 World Cup final, will face Australia in Dubai on Sunday. The Aussies beat Pakistan by five wickets in another thrilling semi final on Thursday.

Spain win sends Wales into playoffs

Wales are officially guaranteed at least a place in the World Cup play-offs after Spain beat Greece 1-0 on Thursday.

Wales started their qualifying campaign knowing they had all but secured a play-off spot having won their Nations League group.

Spain's win in Athens formally seals it, even if Wales finish outside the top two in their qualifying group.

Wales must finish second to have any chance of being seeded for March's play-offs.

Teams who reach the play-offs via the Nations League are unseeded and will be away in their semi-final to a seeded nation.

Wales can guarantee a top-two finish with four points from their final two qualifiers at home to Belarus on Saturday and Belgium on Tuesday.

Wales could theoretically qualify automatically - they are five points behind Group E leaders Belgium with two games to go - but they would need the world's number one ranked side to lose to Estonia as well as to Rob Page's men in Cardiff.

If Wales beat Belarus and lose to Belgium - and the Czech Republic beat Estonia in their only remaining game - the play-off spot would go down to goal difference. The Czechs are currently two ahead on that metric.

Even if Wales do finish outside the top two, they now have a play-off place guaranteed.

Spain's victory, secured by Pablo Sarabia's goal, means they need a point from their showdown with Sweden at the weekend to secure a place at next year's World Cup finals.

Sweden had led Group B going into the final two games but a shock 2-0 loss in Georgia earlier has handed Spain the advantage.

Wales are the fifth best ranked Nations League side, with two play-off places given to the highest ranked sides who do not finish in the top two of their qualifying group.

Kane shines as England cruise

England require only a point from their final qualifier in San Marino to confirm their place at the 2022 World Cup in Qatar after thrashing Albania 5-0 at Wembley on Friday.

Harry Kane led the romp with a first-half hat-trick as England made light work of an Albania side expected to provide stiff opposition after a very respectable qualifying campaign.

England were five goals ahead and out of sight by half-time, Harry Maguire setting them on their way with a ninth-minute header from Reece James' free-kick, Kane quickly adding a second at the far post from Jordan Henderson's cross.

Henderson scored the third himself after a slick exchange with Kane before England's captain added two more before the break with a shot from an angle and a stunning scissors kick from Phil Foden's corner.

Kane is now level with Jimmy Greaves on 44 England goals and has scored 39 competitive goals for his country, breaking Wayne Rooney's record of 37. Gareth Southgate's decision to use two holding midfielders in Henderson and Calvin Phillips raised some eyebrows but the system was the same one used when they beat Germany in Euro 2020, as well as in the losing final against Italy, and worked positively and efficiently.

Southgate was determined to get England on the front foot, using James and Ben Chilwell as attacking wing-backs with Henderson showing a particular willingness to get forward.

After a combative opening and a scare when keeper Jordan Pickford saved brilliantly from Myrto Uzuni after Kyle Walker played the ball into his path at 1-0, England overwhelmed Albania with wave after wave of attacks.

Once that moment of anxiety passed it was one-way traffic with England in complete control and the Albanians being run ragged at the back.

Kane was back to his brilliant best as he scored three and could easily have doubled that tally while Raheem Sterling also looked sharp as England did all their goalscoring in the first 45 minutes.

Maguire celebrated his goal with a fingers in the ears celebration which may have been directed at critics of his recent performances for Manchester United - although it will take more than a goal against

CLASS IS PERMANENT: Harry Kane bounced back into form this week

Albania to erase the memories of those humbling Old Trafford defeats against Liverpool and Manchester City.

England's supremacy enabled Southgate to give a debut to Arsenal's talented Emile Smith Rowe as the game was played out to a low-key conclusion.

This was a comfortable night for England against mediocre opposition but Albania have performed well in this group so Southgate and his players deserve credit for their positive approach and the ruthless manner in which they got this job done, and indeed the way they have negotiated the qualifying campaign.

It is a group which always looked favourable and now all England have to do is complete the formalities against San Marino on Monday before they can begin the serious preparations for Qatar next year.

England boss Gareth Southgate told the BBC: "The first-half performance in the main was outstanding.

"I felt we did all the things we'd talked about after the last game. We pressed really well which made life so uncomfortable for the opposition, our movement was good. Harry [Kane] gave a fantastic centre-forward's performance.

"Any team is at their best when they have an edge and I felt we had that edge all week."

Stevie G takes Villa hot seat

Aston Villa have appointed Steven Gerrard as manager on a three-and-a-half-year deal, ending his three-year reign at Rangers.

The former Liverpool captain, 41, leaves the Scottish champions having guided them to a first league title in 10 years last season.

Gerrard (pictured, right) replaces Dean Smith, who was sacked on Sunday after a run of five successive defeats.

Villa are 16th in the Premier League, two points above the relegation zone.

"Aston Villa is a club with a rich history and tradition in English football and I am immensely proud to become its new head coach," said Gerrard.

"In my conversations with [co-owners] Nassef [Sawiris], Wes [Edens] and the rest of the board, it was apparent how ambitious their plans are for the club and I am looking forward to helping them achieve their aims."

Gerrard took his first steps in senior management with Scottish Premiership side Rangers in 2018, and leaves with them four points clear of rivals Celtic at the top of the table.

According to reports Villa have paid Rangers £4.5m in compensation.

"Steven and his backroom staff have ensured that the club is undoubtedly in a better place today than it was three-and-a-half years ago," said Rangers sporting director Ross Wilson.

"We have shared a desire to move Rangers forward, to modernize our infrastructure and to make the club win again.

"There have been so many areas that we have moved forward, and there is still so much to be done, but I can't stress enough how important it has been to have with us a first-team manager who shared a drive and desire to set standards and move the whole football operation forward."

Scots clinch play-off spot

Scotland clinched a World Cup play-off place with a game to spare thanks to a composed 2-0 victory in Moldova.

Nathan Patterson calmed the nerves with his first Scotland goal then teed up Che Adams to double the lead.

Craig Gordon's vital penalty save denied the hosts a late lifeline.

A fifth straight victory for Steve Clarke's men opens a seven-point gap - Israel are level with Austria after a 4-2 defeat in Klagenfurt - with Denmark already qualified as Group F winners.

Scotland complete the campaign against the Danes at Hampden on Monday when the hosts are likely to need a point to earn a home semi-final in the play-offs.

Northern Ireland moved back up into third in their World Cup qualifying table with a comfortable and much-needed 1-0 home win over Lithuania.

Benas Satkus headed a Paddy McNair corner into his own net to hand the hosts a victory that they thoroughly deserved for a dominant display.

It was a second Group C win in seven games for Ian Baraclough's side, their first also coming against Lithuania.

Striker Dale Taylor, 17, came off the bench late on to make his NI debut.

Northern Ireland, who go above Bulgaria on goal difference in third, finish their campaign back at Windsor Park against Italy on Monday night.

The European champions will arrive in Belfast still top of the table after drawing with Switzerland on Friday, but needing a win to be sure of topping the group.

For Northern Ireland, though, it will be an opportunity to finish the World Cup campaign on a high after defeat in Switzerland and Bulgaria last month ended their hopes of qualifying for the finals.
