COVID: CASES HIT NEW HIGH AS BOOSTER DRIVE RAMPS UP

■ Omicron spreading like wildfire with almost 90,000 new cases confirmed in UK on Thursday

A record number of daily coronavirus cases have been reported across the UK for the second day running, with 88,376 infections confirmed on Thursday.

England's chief medical officer, Prof Chris Whitty, said the Omicron variant could rise "incredibly fast", but its peak subside quickly due to boosters.

There was also a record for top-up vaccines with 745,183 third or booster doses being given on Wednesday.

Boris Johnson has urged people to use "caution" in the face of the variant.

But the prime minister insisted England was not being put into lockdown by stealth, after some of his own MPs had accused the government of putting hospitality under an "effective lockdown".

Meanwhile, the Queen has cancelled her traditional pre-Christmas lunch as a precautionary measure amid the surge of the Omicron variant.

And Wales has introduced a two-stage plan in response to coronavirus with guidance - such as taking a lateral flow test ahead of socialising - for the Christmas period before legal restrictions come into force on 27 December.

These will include all nightclubs closing, 2m social distancing in offices and other measures to protect customers and staff.

A further 146 deaths within 28 days of a positive test were reported on Thursday across the UK.

Daily cases were up from 78,610 on Wednesday, itself a record, and more than 30,000 up on last Thursday when 50,867 infections were reported.

Prof Whitty said the peak of the Omicron wave may fall faster than previous Covid-19 peaks, although he said the upswing will be "incredibly fast".

But he added that this was just a possibility, adding that the rate of growth would slow down once people had received booster vaccines or been infected by the variant.

Speaking to the Commons Health and Social Care Committee, he said that even with people acting cautiously the rise in Omicron cases would still be "very fast".

But the booster programme was the route back to a "more normal track", Prof Whitty said.

Plan B measures and "really critically the booster programme" were intended to slow things down, he said, but he added that "if the facts change and it becomes clearer that things are heading the wrong way, ministers are always going to take constant reviews of this".

Prof Whitty said if vaccines were less effective than expected against Omicron then that would be a "material change" in how ministers viewed risks going forward.

He also said it is likely that vaccines and antiviral drugs will do "almost all of the heavy lifting" when it comes to tackling future Covid variants.

Prof Whitty said "each six months will be better than the last six months"

Welcome Romy! PM and partner unveil new baby girl

Boris Johnson and his wife Carrie have revealed the name and first picture of their new born baby.

Romy Iris Charlotte Johnson, who is one week old, is the couple's second baby together and at least the Prime Minister's seventh child.

By choosing Romy as a nod to Carrie's aunt Rosemary, the couple followed in the footsteps of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle by using a relative's nickname rather than the person's actual moniker - like the Sussexes did by opting for the Queen's pet name Lilibet, rather than Elizabeth.

Meanwhile, Iris is from Greek word for rainbow - a nod to the fact the new born is a 'rainbow baby' - a child born after miscarriage or stillbirth.

Her second middle name is a tribute to the Prime Minister's mother Charlotte Johnson Wahl, who passed away earlier this year.

tribute

Romy was pictured in a Natural Knitted Moses Basket from ethical brand Little Green Sheep alongside the Downing Street Christmas tree, with her big brother Wilf peering over the side.

Rosemary Suarez, 75, who lives in Italy, is believed to be the sister of Carrie's mother, Josephine McAfee - a former lawyer who formed a bubble with Carrie and Boris to help look after Wilf when he was a newborn.

Carrie said in an Instagram post: 'Welcome to the world darling Romy. Born on December 9 at 9.02am.'

'Romy Iris Charlotte Johnson. Romy after my aunt, Rosemary. Iris from the Greek, meaning rainbow. Charlotte after Boris' late mum who we miss so much.'

She added: 'Wilf has been stroking Romy's hair, giving big kisses and playing with his matchbox cars right next to her crib, just in case she feels like joining too.'

Carrie also paid tribute to NHS staff who helped deliver Romy, describing the maternity unit at University College Hospital as 'amazing', adding: 'We are so, so grateful'.

Mrs Suarez, previously said she was 'thrilled' for Carrie, following the news of her engagement to the Prime Minister in 2020. She added the pair are close.

It comes as the Prime Minister revealed the name Romy to NHS staff during a vaccination centre tour earlier on Thursday.

Speaking in Kent, the Prime Minister was asked if he and Carrie had chosen a name for their little girl.

He replied: 'She's going to be called Romy'.

Mr and Mrs Johnson announced the birth of a 'healthy baby girl' at a London hospital on 9th December.

'doing very well'

The Prime Minister said to have been present during the birth.

The pair and their newborn baby daughter returned to Downing Street earlier this week following the birth.

A spokeswoman for the couple said: 'Both mother and daughter are doing very well.'

'The couple would like to thank the brilliant NHS maternity team for all their care and support.'

The couple announced they were expecting their second child together at the end of July, as the environmental campaigner spoke of having a miscarriage earlier in the year.

In August, Carrie was praised for revealing a miscarriage in her announcement that she is expecting another baby.

The Prime Minister's wife said she decided to be open about the tragedy

BROTHERLY LOVE: big brother Wilf meets his little sister

she suffered because she 'found it a real comfort to hear from people who had also experienced loss'.

Announcing the news in a post on Instagram at the weekend, she added:

'I hope that in some very small way sharing this might help others too.'

The former Tory PR chief said she and husband Boris were 'hoping for our rainbow baby this Christmas'.

A rainbow baby is the term given to a child born to a family that previously lost another to miscarriage, stillbirth or neonatal death.

Toppling slaver statue was 'an act of love' insists Bristol defendant

A protester who helped pull down a statue of slave trader Edward Colston during a Black Lives Matter protest has described it as "an act of love".

Sage Willoughby, 22, is one for four people charged with illegally removing the bronze monument to the 17th Century merchant in Bristol in June 2020.

He said he had been signing petitions to have the statue removed for years.

Mr Willoughby and his co-defendants all denied criminal damage when they appeared at Bristol Crown Court.

The protest took place in response to the killing of 46-year-old black man George Floyd by police officers in the US.

During the demonstration, a crowd pulled down a statue of the controversial historical figure and threw it into the docks.

It was later recovered and is currently part of an exhibition at the M Shed museum in the city.

Mr Willoughby is on trial alongside Rhian Graham, 30, Milo Ponsford, 26, and Jake Skuse, 33.

Ms Graham, Mr Ponsford and Mr Willoughby are accused of helping pull down the monument, while Mr Skuse allegedly orchestrated it being rolled to the water and thrown in.

When asked in court if the three of them had planned to topple the statue, Mr Willoughby replied: "If you can call a very vague conversation the night before while we were having a few drinks a plan, then yes."

Mr Willoughby told the court he had grown up in the St Pauls area of Bristol, which has a large Afro-Caribbean population.

"Imagine having a Hitler statue in front of a Holocaust survivor - I believe they are similar," he said.

"Having a statue of someone of that calibre in the middle of the city I believe is an insult, and I will continue to believe that whatever the outcome of this (trial)."

In footage of the incident Mr Willoughby can be seen scaling the statue and passing ropes around it.

He said he had not known if it was possible to topple the statue and denied acting violently, saying: "That was not an act of violence, that was an act of love for my fellow man."

"It is not something I expected was possible."

The trial continues.

Harry Dunn suspect WILL face justice in UK court

■ Case to be heard via videolink in London court next month

The US citizen Anne Sacoolas is due to face criminal proceedings in the UK, charged with causing the death by dangerous driving of the 19-year-old motorcyclist Harry Dunn.

The 44-year-old is accused of killing the teenager in a road crash outside the US military base RAF Croughton in Northamptonshire on 27 August 2019.

The case would be heard at Westminster magistrates court on 18 January, the Crown Prosecution Service said. It is understood that she will appear via video link, although a spokesperson for the law firm representing Sacoolas said: "While we have always been willing to discuss a virtual hearing, there is no agreement at this time."

Sacoolas and her family were taken out of the UK by US authorities as Northamptonshire police investigated Dunn's death, with US officials claiming she had diplomatic immunity.

intelligence officer

The Crown Prosecution Service then sought an extradition warrant to bring her back to the UK to stand trial, but the US state department adamantly refused to grant her extradition, insisting that her status as the wife of a serving US diplomat meant she was not required to stand trial.

The US confirmed she had been an intelligence officer.

She was living at RAF Croughton at a base that was in effect run by the Americans. Her husband was an intelligence official, and the family had been in the UK for only a few weeks when the accident happened.

The US refusal to allow her to come back to the UK had caused tensions between the two countries. It seemed that campaigners acting for the parents of Dunn were close to defeat after exhausting various avenues including a judicial review of the Foreign Office's handling of the case, and a resolution in September of a civil damages claim in the US that ended with no published outcome. After the civil case was settled, the family stressed the criminal case was not being abandoned.

At one point, Radd Seiger, the chief campaigner for the Dunn family, was told he had a 1% chance of success.

'very emotional'

Sacoolas had diplomatic immunity asserted on her behalf by the US government following the collision, and was able to leave the UK 19 days after the incident. The Foreign Office appeared to accept it could not prevent her departure.

The CPS reached the decision to charge Sacoolas with causing Dunn's death by dangerous driving in December 2019. Dunn's mother, Charlotte Charles, said her family were feeling "very emotional" after hearing the news.

She said: "My family and I are feeling very emotional and overwhelmed, having just learned the news that Mrs Sacoolas is now to face our justice system. It is all that we asked for following Harry's death."

Liz Truss, the foreign secretary, welcomed the announcement on Twitter, adding: "We continue to support the family to get justice for Harry Dunn."

A CPS spokesperson said: "While the challenges and complexity of this case are well known, we remain committed to securing justice in this matter. The case will be heard at Westminster magistrates court on 18 January.

"Anne Sacoolas has a right to a fair trial. It is extremely important there should be no reporting, commentary or sharing of information online which could in any way prejudice any proceedings."

The Dunn family have always said they wanted her to face justice in the UK, and it is not clear what would happen if she was found guilty or whether she would serve a sentence or pay any fine in the US.

At one point the US president, Donald Trump, tried to stage a reconciliation between the Dunn family and Sacoolas in the White House, but, given no warning of Trump's plan, the family refused to meet her, saying instead they wanted to see her only in court.

The Sacoolas family have made various offers of compensation and statements of regret, but they have not satisfied the Dunn family.

Queen cancels Christmas! (party)

The Queen has cancelled her family Christmas party over Covid fears.

The Sun reports that Her Majesty (above) said it was "with regret" the annual royal get-together would not be going ahead as planned – but that it was "the right thing to do" as the Omicron variant rages across the UK.

The decision was described as "a precautionary one" as it was felt the festive lunch would "put too many people's Christmas arrangements at risk if it went ahead".

Buckingham Palace declined to comment further as it is a "private family event".

The monarch had been due to host The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall, among 50 or so other members of the Royal Family, at Windsor Castle on Tuesday.

There was due to be wine, crackers and a feast inside the castle – before the Queen set off for Sandringham, Norfolk, for the big day itself.

It will be the monarch's first Christmas in 73 years without her husband Prince Philip, who died at the age of 99 in April.

Tuesday's party had been moved from Buckingham Palace to Windsor where the Queen remains on "light duties" after health scares.

Three of her four new grandchildren — August, Lucas and Siena — all born this year, had been expected to join the party.

But US-based Prince Harry, Meghan, Archie and their daughter Lilibet, who was also born this year, were not scheduled to fly over for the bash.

CAGED: woman who brutally murdered toddler jailed for 25 years

Savannah Brockhill gets life sentence for shocking murder of 16-month old • Child's mother gets eight years

A woman who murdered a Yorkshire toddler has been jailed for life with a minimum term of 25 years, bringing to a conclusion a case that has shocked the nation.

Passing sentence on Savannah Brockhill, 28, the judge said 16-month-old Star Hobson that the toddler had been caught in the crossfire of a toxic relationship.

Addressing Brockhill and her partner, Frankie Smith, Star's mother, the judge added: "The physical injuries that Star suffered during her life are only part – however, a very significant part – of the tragic story of her life. She was also treated with, at best, callous indifference, by you both, and on many occasions with frank cruelty."

The court heard that Brockhill, of Keighley, West Yorkshire murdered Star after inflicting "utterly catastrophic" following weeks of "neglect, cruelty and injury". The toddler died aged 16 months of cardiac arrest after being punched or kicked by Brockhill in September 2020 using "massive force" on a par associated with "a road traffic accident", according to the judge. A postmortem revealed previous brain injuries, fractured bones and internal organ injury.

local review

Smith was jailed for eight years after she was found guilty of causing or allowing the toddler's death. The 20-year-old was cleared of murder and manslaughter charges.

A local review of Star's death is due to be published in January, which will feed into a national one ordered by the government after Arthur Labinjo-Hughes murder.

The first of at least five safeguarding referrals from concerned relatives and friends was made in January 2020 by Hollie Jones, Smith's friend. The judge thanked Jones for "love and care" she showed Star, noting she was frequently "used for free babysitting" while Smith went out drinking. Jones told the BBC that when social workers rang to say they were visiting, Smith spent an hour cleaning Star and covering up bruises. Social workers visited on four occasions, and closed the case three times, while police visited once.

"jealous rage"

The judge found that Star was "caught up" in the crossfire of the 10-month relationship between her mother and Brockhill, which was characterised by "petty squabbles and jealous fights" which escalated into violent threats. Lambert said Brockhill, who she described as the "leading force in the relationship" with a violent temper, then took out her anger on Star, while Smith displayed cruelty and meted out "pointless punishments".

During sentencing, Lambert found that Star's murder was not pre-meditated, and that Brockhill had not intended to kill her, but would "lash out" when in a "jealous rage".

Brockhill, an amateur boxer and security guard, denied all charges against her. Halfway through the seven-week trial, Smith pleaded guilty to eight instances of child cruelty against Star between April and September 2020. The court heard Smith was of extremely low intelligence, and "abnormally compliant" when told to do something by an authority figure. However, the judge said that she "did not accept" that these factors excused Smith's conduct, describing her as a "neglectful and callous parent" who thought only of her own interests and would have realised her partner was abusing Star.

"You chose to be and to remain in that relationship for your own purposes and your own gratification", adding that Smith could have turned to several family members for help, as she had in the past.

Anita Smith, Star's great-grandmother, who had previously looked after the toddler for 10

Savannah Brockhill (left) an amateur boxer, had a 'violent temper' while Smith, (right), the child's mother, was of extremely low intelligence, the court heard

Star Hobson: the victim suffered "utterly catastrophic" injuries before her death weeks, said she would "treasure those memories of a content, happy child forever". Bernard

Hobson, Star's paternal grandfather, choked back tears while describing a sunny child who often stayed with them overnight before Smith cut off all contact in March 2020.

Knighthood for Lewis Hamilton

Lewis Hamilton is now Sir Lewis Hamilton after being knighted in recognition of a glittering career in Formula One - just days after he controversially lost out on a record eighth title.

Britain's former world champion was honoured by the Prince of Wales (right) during a Windsor Castle investiture ceremony on Wednesday.

He was joined by his mother, Carmen Lockhart, and was all smiles as they posed for pictures in the castle's quadrangle. The 36-year-old becomes the fourth grand prix driver to be knighted, following in the footsteps of Sir Jack Brabham, Sir Stirling Moss and Sir Jackie Stewart, and the first to be awarded the honour while still competing.

Hamilton was recognised in the new year honours list following a record-breaking 2020 in which he eclipsed Michael Schumacher's all-time victory tally and emulated the German by winning a seventh world title. But on Sunday, the Mercedes driver's Red Bull rival Max Verstappen claimed his first Formula One world title after his season-long battle with Hamilton came down to a highly controversial one-lap shootout in Abu Dhabi.

The deployment of the safety car after a late crash at the Yas Marina circuit wiped out the lead Hamilton had built over the Dutchman, and Verstappen had the advantage as he was using freshier tyres.

After the Red Bull driver stormed past Sir Lewis – who missed out on a fifth title in succession – the British driver said on the car radio: "This has been manipulated, man," but he was later magnanimous in post-race interviews. He told Sky Sports at the time: "Congratulations to Max and his team. I Everyone back at the factory worked so hard in this most difficult of seasons."

Dr Hopkins said that the earliest there would be reliable data on Omicron would be in the week between Christmas and New Year, with around 250 people with confirmed Omicron needed in hospital for a full study on severity.

The hospitality sector has called for support from government after suffering amid the rise in Covid cases, with fears about Omicron leading to bookings being cancelled.

Chancellor Rishi Sunak acknowledged it was a "difficult time" for hospitality but said the situation was "very different to what we've done and encountered before", adding that the government was not telling people to cancel things or closing down businesses.

The prime minister said he was not telling the public to cancel the events but Prof Whitty had suggested people should "prioritise" activities in the run up to Christmas.

Labour has called for clarity from the government on how it wanted people to behave in the coming weeks.

1m could be isolating at Christmas

More than a million people are likely to be isolating with Covid on Christmas Day, according to projections based on current growth rates.

Chris Whitty, the chief medical officer for England, warned that Omicron was spreading "unbelievably fast".

The World Health Organization said the new coronavirus variant is spreading across the globe at an unprecedented rate.

PM 'stunned' by 99 member Tory rebellion

Boris Johnson has suffered a "humiliating rebellion" against measures to slow the spread of the Omicron variant, after 99 Conservative MPs rejected plans for vaccine certificates.

Almost half of the party's backbenchers voted against new curbs, leaving the prime minister "stunned", said The Times.

The Telegraph described the rebellion as "hammer blow" for Johnson. The vaccine certificates measure nevertheless passed comfortably, by 369 votes to 126, thanks to Labour backing.

Katie swerves jail as judge brands her 'the worst driver I've ever seen'

Katie Price has avoided spending Christmas in prison as she was handed a 16-week sentence – suspended for a year – after she pleaded guilty to her drink-drive crash.

Katie, 43, (above) who attended her court hearing at Crawley Magistrates' court wearing a blue puffer jacket and face mask on Tuesday, had been found drink-driving while disqualified and without insurance following a crash near her home in Horsham, West Sussex.

The court previously heard how the former glamour model was driving her BMW to visit a nearby friend when she was involved in a collision on the B2135 near Partridge Green on September 28th at around 6.20am.

Katie, who is a mum to Harvey, 19, Junior, 16, Princess, 14, Jett, eight, and Bunny, seven, was already banned from driving when she got behind the wheel after taking cocaine and downing vodka and lemonades.

As well as Katie Price being spared jail with the suspended sentence, the mum-of-five was ordered to complete 100 hours of Community Service and take part in 20 rehab sessions with probation and a two-year driving ban.

According to The Sun, she will also pay £213 in costs and it's understood she already owes the court £7,358.

Sentencing, District Judge Amanda Kelly said, "When you chose to get behind the wheel that night you showed no concern for others.

"You could have killed somebody. Your actions meant the emergency services had to use up their precious time.

"You knowingly and deliberately flouted a court order and not for the first time."

After being confronted by police at the scene, Price was heard saying "I took drugs, I should not be driving, I admit it all".

The judge continued, "You seem to think you are above the law."

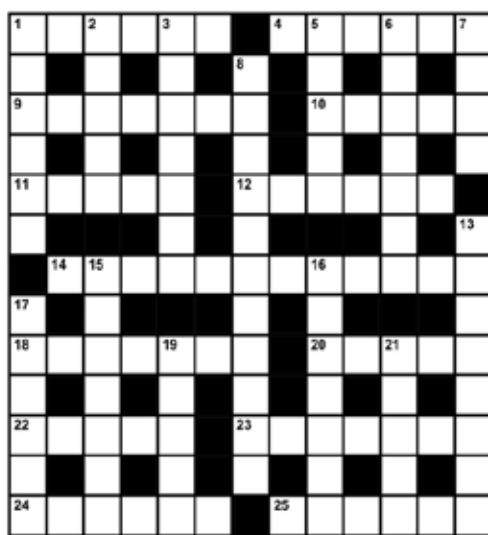

The judge also said Price, who has six previous driving convictions, had "one of the worst driving records I have ever seen".

She added, "The public may well be appalled to know I am not able to send you to prison today... you deserve to spend Christmas behind bars."

Meet A Member: Alexander Hathaway

Meet Alexander Hathaway from Brighton who moved to LA 6 years ago to continue his acting career

Was there a particular reason you chose LA? Los Angeles is THE industry town. As an actor I'm curious and passionate about theatre, film and cinema and with all the American culture I grew up with, LA was the obvious choice for an actor continuing his career in Film and Television. But apart from that, it's the weather, the people and the food and the natural beauty in and around Los Angeles.

What do you miss most from home? I have not been back in two years, and I really miss my sister and her growing family. I miss having a long Sunday walk (Americans call a nice long walk a 'hike', apparently. My walking is mainly three speeds, a 'walk' a 'stroll' and a 'pottering about' but that's just me! So a long country walk with friends across the south downs, ending up sitting in front of the fire at my local pub, with a pint in hand, makes me misty eyed.

What was your first impression of LA and has it changed since?

I remember stepping off that plane at LAX as if it were yesterday, suitcase in hand. I felt I was in my own version of that great Steve Martin film: "LA Story" the energy was palpable, everyone was so friendly, so positive and it felt magical. It felt that anything and everything is possible. It was then and it still is but I guess things changed since the Pandemic. However, the core of this place is the people and its stories - that's what I find fascinating, its a collection of stories and of experiences.

What do you find the biggest difference is living here versus Brighton?

Everything here is reliant on having a car! Public transport is getting better but driving is a necessity.

Do you have a hidden gem in LA that you want to share with us?

My hidden gem is India Sweets and Spices in Atwater. You can get British food and great ingredients for cooking a curry, something very close to my heart.

What would you suggest to others who are thinking about making the move here?

I would suggest that you do a trial run, maybe 4-6 weeks if you are serious about it, come and meet some Brits in LA, see the lay of the land and make an action plan. LA is a beautiful, glamorous and fast-paced but it's not everyone's cup of tea.

Lots of our members join our group Brits in LA seeking out words of wisdom - what is the best piece of advice you've been given?

Definitely meet up with members for coffee and do the Brits in LA events! Such a fun group of people and you'll make really good friends and have a great time. The best piece of advice I was ever given was to take my drivers test in Thousand Oaks and also join AAA. If you ever need to do something like buy/sell a car or sort out your car registration they do it all for you. And for those of you who have never experienced the DMV, it's like... I literally have no words.

Alexander Hathaway: he loves a good curry

Lastly, how can we find out more about you? Are you working on anything at the moment?

I'm on the judging panel for 2022 'Hollywood Fringe Festival' and I'm also a judge for the rather splendidly amazing 'DLFF' (DieLaughingFilm Festival) in Hollywood. I'm continuing my work as a UK Equity Ambassador for the Los Angeles Network here in LA, supporting equity members and events. Have completed my children's book about my dog Murphy, and I'm adapting it for a children's TV Series. Also, I'm currently filming a TV series 'Binary Star' and I've just been attached to two new projects filming in LA starting next year, so I feel really thankful, blessed for all the opportunities that are coming my way. And the support of my lovely agents both here and in the UK. Visit my website lexhathaway.com and connect with me on Instagram at: @lexhathaway_official

ARIES: When was the last time you had time to do something for youwhatever you wanted? Just take it as an early gift.

TAURUS: Your boss Venus in your cousin sign Capricorn is going on a go slow this week ahead. Keep focused on what you have to do and you can hold off on the rest.

GEMINI: This is the best time of the month to get things done while the Sun is in your opposite sign. The workload should slow down soon for you normally busy people.

CANCER: You should not be looking at what you thought should have transpired. Look more at what you did achieve. Reach out to someone who could do with your help.

LEO: You are the best person to keep others from getting impatient since you can be that way sometimes. Be sure you keep busy, not bored.

VIRGO: Start preparing for a holiday event this weekend. The sun is heading into your cousin sign next week and you will be in the mood for the holiday.

LIBRA: Changing how you look at a challenging situation of late is the way to go. Your boss Venus is on a go-slow now, so not much can be accomplished until after the holiday.

SCORPIO: You have been a little confused of late about a person you did not expect to pop back up again. Remember a leopard does not change its spots.

SAGITTARIUS: Keep your own counsel now. Your boss Jupiter heading into gentle Pisces will be useful in your area of communication. Happy Birthday!

CAPRICORN: Your new year starts next week and it's getting better. However no plans can be set in stone as Venus going slow in your life now can change things.

AQUARIUS: Don't be surprised if that old saying about 'the greatest plans of mice and men oft go awry' rings true soon. Saturn moving into your sign now will bring more changes.

PISCES: Jupiter is shining a bright light on you so make sure you are looking good. It's time to shine after too long in the shadows.

The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 19 23RD AVENUE, VENICE, CA 90291 The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. Said sale will be made without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the Note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, with interest thereon, as provided in said Note(s), advances if any, under the terms of the Deed of Trust, estimated fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. The total amount of the unpaid balance of the obligations secured by the property to be sold and reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of this Notice of Trustee's Sale is estimated to be $1,005,358.16 (Estimated). However, prepayment premiums, accrued interest and advances will increase this figure prior to sale. Beneficiary's bid at said sale may include all or part of said amount. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept a cashier's check drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the California Financial Code and authorized to do business in California, or other such funds as may be acceptable to the Trustee. The property offered for sale excludes all funds held on account by the property receiver, if applicable. If the Trustee is unable to convey title for any reason, the successful bidder's sole and exclusive remedy shall be the return of monies paid to the Trustee and the successful bidder shall have no further recourse. Notice to Potential Bidders If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a Trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a Trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same Lender may hold more than one mortgage or Deed of Trust on the property. Notice to Property Owner The sale date shown on this Notice of Sale may be postponed one or more times by the Mortgagee, Beneficiary, Trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about Trustee Sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call In Source Logic at 702-659-7766 for information regarding the Trustee's Sale or visit the Internet Website www.insourcelogic.com for information regarding the sale of this property, using the file number assigned to this case, CA08000248-21-1. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice to Tenant NOTICE TO TENANT FOR FORECLOSURES AFTER JANUARY 1, 2021 You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call 702-659-7766, or visit this internet website www.insourcelogic.com, using the file number assigned to this case CA08000248-21-1 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Fictitious Business Name Statement:

Hamilton has 'every reason' to come back next year, says new champ Max

Max Verstappen says Lewis Hamilton has every reason to return to Formula 1 next year despite his unhappiness over the Abu Dhabi Grand Prix.

Mercedes F1 boss Toto Wolff said on Thursday that Hamilton was "disillusioned" and he could not guarantee he would return next year.

Verstappen said: "I can understand the first few days after a race like that you're not happy. "But you should also understand this is racing and these things can happen."

Verstappen said seven-time champion Hamilton should spend some time thinking about what he has achieved in F1 - and what he could go on to achieve.

"He should just look back at what he has achieved already," said the Red Bull driver said, who grabbed the championship from Hamilton on the last lap of the Abu Dhabi race after a controversially handled safety-car period.

"That should give him a lot of comfort and it should also be that drive to keep on going because he is still trying to challenge for that eighth title and for sure he can do that next year so I don't see any reason to give up just now."

Verstappen pointed out that Hamilton himself had won a title in similar circumstances, when he deprived Ferrari's Felipe Massa on the last corner of the last lap of the last grand prix in 2008.

"I don't feel sorry [for him] but I can understand that it can be very painful but at the end of the day," he said. "He also won a championship like that."

Verstappen was officially presented with the world championship trophy at the prize giving gala of governing body the FIA in Paris on Thursday.

Hamilton and Wolff did not attend, in protest at the events of Abu Dhabi.

Mercedes driver Valtteri Bottas missed the news conference - the FIA said he had been with his new Alfa Romeo team at their base in Switzerland and his flight had been delayed - but did make it to Paris in time for the prize giving and dinner.

Mercedes constructors' championship trophy - which they have won

Hamilton congratulated Verstappen after his win on Sunday in Dubai for a record eighth consecutive season - technical officer James Allison was collected by chief outgoing FIA president Jean Todt has launched a review of the events of Abu Dhabi and the season after a series of controversies over inconsistent decisions by officials. The FIA has also admitted that the image of F1 has been "tarnished" by the Abu Dhabi controversy.

Todt said of Verstappen: "He gets what he deserves. He made a great season. You focus on the last lap. It's true he was very lucky on the last lap. But you should see the whole season. Was he lucky in Silverstone? Was he lucky in Azerbaijan? Was he lucky in Budapest? He was not."

Todt refused to be drawn on whether Hamilton and Wolff would be penalised for not attending the prize giving ceremony, as is required of them in the sporting regulations.

"Tonight we should celebrate rather than trying to get into any kind of controversy," Todt said.

"There is no point. What would it give? In a way, I feel sorry because Mercedes should have much more reward. Eight times champions for the manufacturers is something unique.

"Are we going to punish because he's not coming? This is not the platform to speak about that. We should be above that."

Nations League: tough draws for England and Wales

■ Southgate's men face Italy and Germany, while Wales will battle Belgium and the Netherlands

England will face Italy, who beat them in the Euro 2020 final, and Germany in the group stage of the 2022-23 Nations League, while Wales have been drawn with Belgium and the Netherlands.

Gareth Southgate's side are in Group A3, which also includes Hungary, while Wales are in Group A4, which is completed by Poland.

Scotland face the Republic of Ireland, Armenia and Ukraine in Group B1.

Northern Ireland are in Group C2 for the tournament, which begins on 2 June.

Ian Baraclough's side will play Greece, Kosovo and one of Cyprus or Estonia, who must first meet in a play-off next March to determine who goes into the group.

Defending champions France are in Group A1 with Denmark, Austria and Croatia, while neighbours Portugal and Spain have been drawn together in Group A2 with the Czech Republic and Switzerland.

Each team will first play four group games from 2 to 14 June, then a final two games from 22 to 27 September 2022.

The four group winners from the top division - League A - will play in the finals in June 2023.

The teams who win each group in the lower three divisions win promotion, with most of the teams who finish bottom getting relegated.

England lost on penalties to Italy in the final of Euro 2020 at Wembley in July.

However, crowd trouble at that game means the Three Lions' first home game in the Nations League will be played behind closed doors after European football's governing body Uefa sanctioned the Football Association over the disorder.

"Whatever happens won't ease the disappointment of losing the final," said England boss Southgate of facing Italy again.

"Of course it's a very good fixture for us to play and the fact we have been to the final with them means it will grab more attention, so that puts more interest on the game, which is what we want."

On the group as a whole, Southgate

None of the home nations have been drawn together in the group stage added: "They are exciting games. I think the Nations League format throws up these outstanding fixtures."

Meanwhile, Wales are playing in the top division of the tournament for the first time after they were promoted in the last edition.

"The big one is Belgium," said Wales boss Robert Page, whose side drew with them in World Cup qualifying on 16 November.

"Off the back of a great performance against them last month, everyone will be talking about that.

"They're an outstanding outfit but we've proved we're prepared to go toe-to-toe with them."

Mo on target as Reds keep it tight

Mohamed Salah scored his 22nd goal of the season as Liverpool closed the gap on Premier League leaders Manchester City with a hard-fought 3-1 win over Newcastle Thursday night.

Without Virgil van Dijk and Fabinho because of suspected positive coronavirus tests, Jurgen Klopp's team went behind early on to their struggling opponents when Jonjo Shelvey scored against his former club following a quick break.

Two goals in the space of four minutes, however, put Liverpool in charge.

Diogo Jota's equaliser had an element of controversy about it, as it came when Isaac Hayden was down in the six-yard box with a head injury, but the Portuguese took advantage by tucking in on the rebound following Martin Dubravka's initial save.

Shelvey then undid his positive start by gifting a backpass to Sadio Mane, who drew another save from Dubravka before Salah lashed home.

Shortly before Salah's goal, which meant he equalled Jamie Vardy's record of scoring or assisting in 15 successive Premier League games, Allan Saint-Maximin wasted a chance as he was denied by Alisson.

Eddie Howe's team improved after the break as the hosts eased off, and went close via Jacob Murphy and Shelvey, but Trent Alexander-Arnold's late strike from 25 yards ended the game as a contest, and Liverpool now sit a point behind City.

Newcastle remain 19th in the table, three points from safety, and their task to avoid relegation does not get any easier when they host Pep Guardiola's league leaders on Sunday.

Following two 1-0 victories - courtesy of a 90th-minute winner against Wolves and a debated penalty against Aston Villa - Liverpool's 2,000th top-flight win was a more confident affair, even though they were affected by coronavirus prior to kick-off.

Liverpool kept their opponents at bay in the second half and a fine evening's work was helped by Everton's draw at Chelsea, meaning Liverpool extended their advantage over Thomas Tuchel's third-placed team to three points.
