Tories brace for heavy local election losses

Partygate, rising inflation and low turnout expected to hurt Conservatives

The Conservatives were bracing for widespread losses on Thursday after voting closed in local elections across the UK, with Labour and the Liberal Democrats expecting to make gains.

Taking place against the backdrop of the cost of living crisis, the first nationwide polls since Partygate will be widely read as a test of whether Boris Johnson has become an electoral liability.

Every council seat in Wales, Scotland and London is being contested, as well as thousands more across England – more than 6,800 in all. At the same time, voters in Northern Ireland are electing all 90 members of the national assembly at Stormont, where the nationalist Sinn Féin could be returned as the largest party for the first time.

low turnout

Many English councils were counting through the night and results were not available as the BW went to press.

Labour and Lib Dem

sources suggested turnout appeared to be low, which they suggested could reflect Tory supporters staying at home rather than switching to another party.

The former Conservative minister Nick Boles, who once served as Johnson's chief of staff when Johnson was mayor of London, declared he was voting Labour, while Dominic Cummings chose polling day to renew his calls for "regime change"

key marginals

As results emerge, Labour was preparing a detailed dive into vote shares in 35 to 50 key constituencies in the hope of showing that it is on track to make the gains necessary to win a general election.

The behind-the-scenes project, known as Operation Clear Day, will examine how the vote share is tracking against polling in key marginal wards and areas. Among those that will be watched intently are Hyndburn, Bury North and Bury South, Stevenage and Southampton.

progress

In London, the best signs of potential gains to be made at a general election will be in Barnet, which Labour hopes to gain, and Chingford in Waltham Forest, where the party failed to oust Iain Duncan Smith in 2019.

Barry Rawlings, the leader of the Labour group on Barnet council, said he was hopeful of turning the town hall red for the first time. "I think we're fairly confident we'll take the council," he said.

Labour also hopes to make progress in south Wales, where FOREVER ENGLISH: photos of dogs at polling stations are a tradition in Britain, although this bulldog, captured on Thursday, remained unimpressed it lost overall control of councils in areas including Bridgend, Merthyr Tydfil and Blaenau Gwent when the seats were last contested five years ago. Senior aides say the most crucial battle of all for Keir Starmer is in Scotland, where the Labour leader must show the party has got back to second place ahead of the Conservatives and is making gains against the SNP in key areas including Glasgow, in order to be on track to win a significant number of new constituency seats in two years' time.

Bank of England hikes interest rates as inflation nears 10%

■ Although 1% is historically low, it is the fourth successive increase and highest level since February 2009

The government is facing calls to launch a fresh package of emergency financial support for households after the Bank of England on Thursday warned Britain's economy could plunge into recession before the end of the year.

As the nation went to the polls in the local elections, the Bank raised interest rates from 0.75% to 1% to tackle spiralling inflation made worse by Russia's war in Ukraine. With a fresh jump in home energy bills expected in October, it forecast inflation would rise above 10% this year, the highest level since 1982.

The rate rise brings borrowing costs to levels unseen since the recession caused by the 2008 financial crisis, but the Bank's monetary policy committee (MPC) said action was warranted despite the gathering economic storm clouds.

'dual risks'

Andrew Bailey, the Bank's governor, said there was a "narrow path" the central bank had to navigate between the dual risks of inflation and recession facing the British economy. He said the inflation shock had been made worse by the impact on supply chains from Covid lockdowns in China and the rise in energy costs since Vladimir Putin's invasion.

"I recognise the hardship this will cause for many people in the UK, particularly those on the lowest incomes, often with little or no savings, who are hit hardest by increases in the prices of basic necessities like food and energy," Bailey said.

The pound fell sharply after the rate decision as the City reacted to Britain's weaker economic prospects. Sterling tumbled by almost 3 cents against the dollar on the currency markets and by more than a cent against the euro.

With the Conservatives

Darker skies approaching: dusk on Threadneedle Street expecting to take a drubbing in the polls, Labour and opposition parties called on the government to drastically rethink its support measures for hard-pressed families as the cost of living crisis escalates further.

Rachel Reeves, the shadow chancellor, said the government was out of ideas and out of touch. "Not only are ministers shrugging their shoulders at the spiralling cost of living crisis, they've made it worse by hitting working people and businesses with 15 Tory tax rises that will further stifle our economic growth."

Boris tells Ukraine: you will win, you will be free

BORIS Johnson has told Ukraine's parliament the country's resistance against the Russian invasion was its "finest hour".

The Prime Minister addressed politicians on Monday via a video link, declaring Ukraine will ultimately defeat Vladimir Putin's forces in a fight of "good versus evil".

He said Ukraine had proven military experts "completely wrong".

Mr Johnson's address, which was given a rapturous standing ovation, also confirmed the UK will send support worth £300million to Ukraine in the coming weeks.

In the recorded address, he told the Verkhovna Rada - Ukraine's parliament - that the "so-called irresistible force of Putin's war machine has broken on the immovable object of Ukrainian patriotism".

The PM said: "Ukraine will win, Ukraine will be free.

"You have proved the old saying - it's not the size of the dog in the fight, it's the size of the fight in the dog.

"This is Ukraine's

The Prime Minister addressed Ukrainian legislators via video link on Monday finest hour, that will be remembered and recounted for generations to come."

He said the conflict is about "freedom versus oppression", "right versus wrong" and "good versus evil".

The PM added: "In the coming weeks, we in the UK will send you Brimstone anti-ship missiles and Stormer anti-aircraft systems. We are providing armoured vehicles to evacuate civilians.

"I can announce today from the UK Government a new package of support totalling £300million, including radars to pinpoint the artillery bombarding your cities.

"We will carry on supplying Ukraine with weapons, funding and humanitarian aid, until we have achieved our long-term goal, which must be to fortify Ukraine so that no one will ever dare to attack you again."

Ukrainian MPs in the chamber could be seen holding a Union Flag and the Ukrainian flag.

President Volodymyr Zelensky spoke after Mr Johnson, describing the UK and Ukraine as "brothers and sisters".

It was reportedly the first time Mr Zelensky has appeared in the parliament in person since the war began.

Britain is at the forefront of the West's response to Russia's invasion and has sent more than £450million in military aid to the Ukrainian army.

NO LAUGHING MATTER: Sedentary lifestyles and fast food culture are to blame for the alarming trend

Britain set to be fattest nation in Europe, says WHO FAST-food home deliveries coupled with a sedentary online culture will lead to the UK overtaking Turkey as the fattest nation in Europe in little more than a decade, a report claims.

World Health Organisation research shows 64 per cent of UK adults are overweight, including 28 per cent who are obese, making Britain the fattest nation in western Europe.

But the study also warns that lifestyle trends here mean the situation is likely to get worse.

Data compiled since 2000 suggests a staggering 37 per cent of UK adults are expected to be obese when rates peak in 2033/34.

Currently Turkey and Malta have a greater proportion of their population who are obese while Israel also has higher levels of obesity.

But Dr Wickramasinghe, WHO lead for non-communicable diseases in Europe, pointed to Britons being at the forefront of lifestyle trends that involve more people spending time in front of screens and ordering food deliveries.

He said: "The UK

is ahead in western Europe where we see a particular lifestyle, with more digital screen time and the food environment in supermarkets, leading to increased obesity.

"You see the same in other countries but in the UK you see a greater proportion having online deliveries and [being exposed to fast food] advertising."

In forecasts of future rates of obesity, conducted by the University of Groningen in the Netherlands, only the US fared worse than Britain – with 44 per cent of adults expected to be obese by 2031.

The WHO European Regional Obesity Report 2022 highlights sedentary lifestyles where people increasingly stay at home in front of screens and socialise more online.

It also flagged the prevalence of food delivery services – such as Deliveroo and Just Eat – as well as online supermarket deliveries. It said: "Evidence suggests that food and beverages purchased from the out-of-home sector are more energy-dense and higher in fat, sugar and salt than their retail counterparts."

Crossrail: much-delayed Elizabeth Line to open on 24 May

■ Tunnelled section of £19bn project through centre of London is finally ready for passengers

THE MOST ambitious public transport project in Britain decades is finally set to open on May 24th, it was announced this week.

The hugely delayed and grossly overbudget Elizabeth Line is expected to revolutionize travel east to west across the capital, and is expected to massively boost transport capacity in London and south-east England, cutting journey times, and with a number of new stations and much longer, spacious trains.

The line will initially operate as three separate railways, with the overground services already running as TfL (Transport for London) Rail in the west and east planned to join directly with the centre from this autumn. The new underground section will start operating 12 trains an hour between Paddington and Abbey Wood from Monday to Saturday, between 6.30am and 11pm.

Engineering work will continue through the nights and on Sundays, with testing and software updates to allow for more intensive services. Later this year 22 trains an hour are planned to run at peak times in central London.

TfL's commissioner, Andy Byford, who staked his reputation on completing the line before the 30 June deadline, said: "We are using these final few weeks to continue to build up reliability on the railway and get the Elizabeth line ready to welcome customers.

"The opening day is set to be a truly historic moment for the capital and the UK, and we look forward to showcasing a simply stunning addition to our network."

SIGN OF PROGRESS: The TFL commissioner described the opening of the Elizabeth Line as "a truly historic moment for the capital and the UK"

The mayor of London, Sadiq Khan, said the opening of the Elizabeth line would help build a "safer, fairer, greener and more prosperous city for all Londoners".

He said: "This is the most significant addition to our transport network in decades and will revolutionise travel across the capital and the south-east, as well as delivering a £42bn boost to the whole UK economy and hundreds of thousands of new homes and jobs."

The Elizabeth line was originally due to open under central London in December 2018, as part of the ambitious Crossrail plan, aimed to provide a high-frequency suburban passenger service crossing the capital from west to east, by connecting two major railway lines terminating in London, the Great Western Main Line and the Great Eastern Main Line. But executives had to delay the opening after admitting the project was far behind schedule. The scheme, which includes 10 new stations and 26 miles of new tunnels, escalated in budget from £14.8bn to £18.9bn.

Part of the delay and cost has been due to Crossrail's complicated signalling, which integrates three different systems.

More signs with the purple livery of the Elizabeth line will be uncovered in the coming weeks, as well as the updated tube map showing the connections with the rest of the TfL network. Bus services will also be changed in east London to connect with the new stations.

Bond Street station, a Crossrail site that has been beset by construction problems, will not be open for Elizabeth line services when they commence, but TfL said there had been "good progress" and it is expected to be in use by the end of 2022.

Hand of God shirt fetches £7.1m at auction

The blue shirt Diego Maradona wore when he scored twice to knock England out of the 1986 World Cup has sold for a record £7.1million.

The Argentinian great described his opening goal in the quarter-final as "a little with the head of Maradona, and a little with the hand of God".

Four minutes later he dribbled past a host of England players to slot another beyond the reach of goalkeeper Peter Shilton, a strike voted "goal of the century".

England midfielder Steve Hodge, who unintentionally flicked the ball to Maradona in the build-up to the memorable opener, swapped shirts with his rival after the game

PRICE OF HISTORY: Maradona's shirt is "a reminder of an important moment not only in the history of sports, but in the history of the 20th century" in Mexico City, which Argentina won 2-1. Hodge has owned it ever since.

The shirt which has spent the last 20 years on loan at the National Football Museum in Manchester, sold at Sotheby's yesterday for £7,142,500, an auction record for sports memorabilia.

The auction house said the No10 jersey was in "good overall condition consistent with heavy use, perspiration and athletic activity". Brahm Wachter, at Sotheby's, said the shirt was a "reminder of an important moment not only in the history of sports, but in the history of the 20th century.

"This is arguably the most coveted football shirt to ever come to auction, and so it is fitting that it now holds the auction record for any object of its kind."

The game came four years after Britain had defeated Argentina in the Falklands War.

Maradona, who died in 2020 aged 60, said: "It was like beating a country, not a football team."

A manuscript of the 1892 Olympic Manifesto held the previous record after it sold for $8.8million (£6.6million) in December 2019.

New royal security scare at Windsor

A FANTASIST WHO pretended to be a priest sparked a major security probe after Royal Guardsmen protecting the Queen allowed him into their quarters last week.

Troops at Victoria Barracks, yards away from Windsor Castle, were approached by the man who claimed to be a friend of the padre to the Coldstream Guards at the base.

The Guards are there to protect the Queen and carry out ceremonial duties.

Without showing any identification, he was invited to eat and drink with senior officers in the officers' mess, claiming he had served in Iraq and received a bravery medal.

Incredibly, despite suspicions when he boasted of "G-force resistant internal organs", he was allowed to stay overnight – before being rumbled at breakfast. Now the Ministry of Defence is calling for an urgent investigation into the security breach.

The imposter was on site for nearly 16 hours before police were called on Wednesday and he was escorted off site. "The guy turned up at the gate in the evening and said his name was Father Cruise and claimed to be a friend of the battalion's padre, Rev Matt Coles. He was invited in and offered something to eat in the officers' mess. Within a couple of hours, he was drinking with the officers in the bar and telling stories of how he served in Iraq.

"He was telling lots of tall stories and the lads were enjoying his banter.

"It was only later in the evening when he started talking about his role as an ejector-seat test pilot that the chaps started to get suspicious. In any event he was allowed a bed for the night.

"Checks were made in the morning and it was apparent this guy wasn't a bona fide priest."

Suspicions were raised when he claimed his ejector-seat training came after he received "G-force resistant" internal organs in a transplant. A source said the imposter was known to police locally as a man suffering from mental health issues and he was not arrested.

An Army spokesman said it "takes this breach of security extremely seriously and it will be thoroughly investigated as a matter of priority".

Fresh evidence found to link main suspect in Maddie case

INVESTIGATORS say they have found damning evidence against the man they believe kidnapped and murdered Madeleine McCann.

German prosecutors would not discuss claims fibres from the tot's pyjamas were found in Christian Brueckner's camper van.

But lead lawyer Hans-Christian Wolters said: "We have found new facts and new evidence.

"We are sure he is the murderer of Madeleine McCann. We are sure he killed Madeleine."

Mr Wolters spoke on TV as Madeleine's family marked 15 years since the three year old disappeared from a holiday apartment in Praia da Luz, Portugal.

German rapist and paedophile Brueckner, 45, who is currently jailed in his home country, was named the prime suspect in 2020. Inquiries revealed he was close to the scene in the Algarve resort when Madeleine, of Rothley, Leics, vanished on May 3 2007.

According to unconfirmed reports, Christian Brueckner's van contained fibers from Madeleine McCann's pajamas

It is claimed fibres from Madeleine's pink Winnie the Pooh Eeyore pyjamas were found in Brueckner's VW camper van.

Brueckner denies any involvement in the toddler's disappearance.

And this week his lawyer dismissed claims of fresh evidence against his client.

Meanwhile, Mr Wolters told Portuguese TV he could not discuss the alleged find because Brueckner's legal team had not been officially informed.

Brueckner is serving seven years in Oldenburg for raping a pensioner in Praia da Luz in 2005.

He will face a new trial after being accused of raping a woman the year before in nearby Praia da Rocha.

He is also being investigated for allegedly exposing himself to a girl, 10, on a beach days before Madeleine vanished. Portuguese police have declared Brueckner an "arguido" – official suspect – in the Madeleine case. They have until November 2029 to put him on trial.

St Paul's Cathedral to admit girls to choir for first time in 900 years

St Paul's Cathedral is to admit girls to its internationally renowned choir, breaking a tradition stretching back 900 years.

The move comes 31 years after Salisbury became the first Anglican cathedral in England to offer girls places in its choir. Many others, including York Minster, Durham and Exeter, have followed suit.

St Paul's choir performs at services and events of national importance as well as daily liturgies and three times on Sundays. It will perform at a service of thanksgiving next month for the Queen's platinum jubilee celebrations.

The choir currently comprises 22 choristers alongside professional singers known as vicars choral. The first girls will join in 2025 after boarding school facilities have been expanded and funds raised for scholarships.

Sarah Mullally, the bishop of London, said: "I am delighted by the chapter [governing body] decision to welcome girls into the cathedral choir. The choir plays a key role in the worship not just of the cathedral, but of the whole diocese. It will be wonderful to hear girls' voices contributing to this."

Andrew Carwood, director of music at St Paul's, said: "Knowing that our incredible boys will be joined by young girl choristers in the near future is heartwarming, and an important milestone in the choir's history."

'heritage'

He said the "long-held ambition" to introduce girls had been put on hold by the Covid pandemic and resulting loss of income. "Now we're getting our mojo back, and one of the first things is to get girls into the choir."

According to the Traditional Cathedral Choir Association, "the ecclesiastical all-male voice choir is a hugely significant part of our heritage" that has been valued for centuries. However, "a myriad of pressures has seen many of our historic traditional choirs lost" over recent years, it adds.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: JEAN LISETTE AROESTE CASE NO. 22STPB03504

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of JEAN LISETTE AROESTE.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by CLAUDINE DENISE TUCKER in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that CLAUDINE DENISE TUCKER be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 05/16/22 at 8:30AM in Dept. 9 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Brits in LA

In a tizzy over an expiring passport?

Passport panic has been getting lots of our members in a right tizzy! Apparently applicants in the UK are experiencing horrendous delays - so much so that Boris Johnson has been threatening to privatize the passport office if they don't get their act together. In a sign of how uncivilized the political discourse has become BoJo threatened to privatise the 'arse' out of the passport office unless it clears the applications backlog threatening millions of summer holidays. And of course the British newspapers are adding fuel to fire with terrify headlines claiming that "up to a million trips are being put at risk". It is a bit unfair blaming incompetent staff when I hear that a lot of these delays have been caused by an overwhelming amount of people putting off their renewal until the very last minute. Surely everybody knows by now that you shouldn't book a trip until you have a valid passport in your hands...?

If you are applying whilst in the UK the current wait is approximately 10 weeks. If you really can't wait that long you can pay extra (more than double the price!) for their one week Fast Track or two day Premium Service.

Also good to keep in mind that you can actually renew a passport up to nine months before its expiration date, so why wait? Avoid the worry and do it now if you can!

The good news for those of us living in the USA the turnaround time is currently about 3 weeks, apparently this is due to overseas applications being processed in a different (more efficient?) office - one Brits in LA member reported that they applied online on April 11th and had the new one back by April 26th - it probably would have been even faster if there hadn't been the Easter Bank Holiday in between!

circumventing the oftentimes arduous tasks of removing your shoes, laptop, quart-sized bag of liquids, etc.

Another benefit is that because it is an official government issued ID it can be used in place of Real ID which is set to be mandatory in many scenarios from May 2023.

It costs $100 and membership lasts five years. Many credit card companies reimburse the fee, I know that my Chase card does, but check with yours first rather than just assume.

It is a fairly simple process, you just have to fill in a form and submit documents verifying your identity then wait for them to be approved. Once that's done you can schedule an interview; this is where it can get a bit tricky, as many people I spoke to said the first available appointment wasn't until January 2023!

There is another option available though, and this is to request an interview at immigration when returning from traveling abroad. This is how I managed to avoid the wait time. No appointment is necessary but do bear in mind they close at 9pm at LAX.

It was surprisingly straightforward, when showing my passport at border control I politely mentioned that my Global Entry application had been conditionally approved and would like to do my interview and was then directed over to another booth. There were a couple

Got a Real ID?

Thankfully I renewed my passports last year, as I half suspected there might be a big rush once travel opened up a bit. I don't think privatization is the necessarily the answer though, do you?

I finally got it together to apply for my Global Entry Card - for those of you who aren't aware, this is a program that enables you to skip the long lines at border control when returning to the USA. It also includes TSA PreCheck which helps you speed through Transportation and Security Administration security at more than 200 U.S. airports by Abject Quizzery as Sandro returns!

Fun and games are always on the menu at our popular pub quiz each Tuesday at the Market Tavern.

The pub was packed for the return from vacation of quizmaster Sandro Monetti and his witty, wacky and testing questions.

The Lad and the Ladies (pictured, top) came close to trivia victory but had the consolation of winning a sticky toffee pudding in the singing round - helped by having West End stage star Lauren Samuels (in orange top) in their team.

In the end, the ultimate glory and the free drinks went to The Return of Coathangers, who will return on May 10 to defend their title.

of people ahead of me and each interview seemed to take just over 10 minutes. Mine was less than that, just a few questions then it was time to have my fingerprints and photograph taken - I wasn't at all ready for my close up, after all I had been traveling for the last 15 hours, but still much better than waiting an extra seven months.

Global Entry is currently available to US Citizens and permanent residents (green card holders) - visit this link for details: <https://tp.dhs.gov>

Outside of American enrollment, Global Entry is also available for residents and citizens of 13 countries that offer reciprocal benefits including the United Kingdom!

Visit www.gov.uk/global-entry-usa for more info.

Canadian citizens and residents are eligible for Global Entry benefits through membership in the NEXUS program.

I've not had a chance to use it yet but really looking forward to it as many of my friends rave about it, so I am very pleased to be part of this club!

If you have any questions about this or anything else you can email me at eileen@Britsin.LA

Stargazing with Annie Shaw

ARIES: The present times are harder for you than most. Fear not, this is the beginning of your new year. Imagine what you can do with plenty of time ahead!

TAURUS: You should be ready to put into process any plans pending since early in the year. You could be considering a short trip, just be sure it's for fun. Happy Birthday!

GEMINI: This has been a busy time of late and will continue for a while. Travel in any form is on your mind, just take care of business before you go.

CANCER: Whenever you feel down, it's best to remember that this difficult ti me is ending slowly but surely. Don't look at what is not happening, rather make plans for what you want to put your energy into now and in the future.

LEO: You can relax now as you have probably done a lot of work in your home area. Just don't forget to keep up with your extended family and friends.

VIRGO: Work on positive thoughts every day and plan for a great summer. Even though you usually plan well ahead, life does not always go as planned, so be flexible!

LIBRA: The things that you have put off doing in the past months should now get a second look. Whatever it is get going. Your boss Venus is in your opposite sign of Aries and will help.

SCORPIO: Intensity is often a part of how you deal with life in general. This often works out in a positive way for you and as this month moves forward you will see how much you can achieve by surrendering and just letting things be.

SAGITTARIUS: Like your cousin fire signs, you feel that there are some things that cannot wait. Well, all you can do is plan ahead. Jupiter your boss is in your cousin sign to help you.

CAPRICORN: All the situations that have come up for you at this time should be calming down soon. Jupiter is visiting your money area and so that is good news indeed.

AQUARIUS: While the current times are uncertain for some folks you actually are feeling more positive. You know you will get through this, so let go and relax.

PISCES: You are probably feeling somewhat undecided about something. This can mean there is a better way. Relax and you will figure it out soon.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF: TOMIKO TANAKA HIRANO AKA TOMI T. HIRANO AKA TOMI TANAKA HIRANO AKA TOMIKO T. HIRANO AKA TOMIKO HIRANO

Case No. 22STPB03919
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the Non-Domiciliary WILL or estate, or both of TOMIKO TANAKA HIRANO AKA TOMI T. HIRANO AKA TOMI TANAKA HIRANO AKA TOMIKO T. HIRANO AKA TOMIKO HIRANO. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by SANDRA K. HIRANO in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that SANDRA K. HIRANO be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's Non-Domiciliary WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The Non-Domiciliary WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 05/25/22 at 8:30AM in Dept. 9 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner JOHN S. TORII - SBN 93026, LAW OFFICE OF JOHN S. TORII 406 AMAPOLA AVE., #125 TORRANCE CA 90501 5/7, 5/14, 5/21/22

Reds to get a quarter of tickets for Champions League final Liverpool fans will receive 19,618 tickets for the Champions League final against Real Madrid - roughly a quarter of the capacity of the Stade de France.

The Anfield club has announced its allocation, which equates to 26.1% of the 75,000 capacity Uefa has outlined.

Liverpool supporters union Spirit of Shankly called it a "poor allocation".

Uefa - European

football's governing body - sells 12,000 seats to "fans worldwide" and closed its window for this process of sale on 28 April.

Liverpool's tickets for the 28 May final range from £41.93 to £578.63.

Just under 5% of the club's allocation will be sold at the highest price point, with the majority of tickets - 55.7% - allocated in a category costing £125.79 or £100.63 with a restricted view.

Real Madrid will receive a similar allocation to Liverpool, meaning the two clubs share about 40,000 seats in all.

About 23,000 seats will be available to national associations, commercial partners, broadcasters, and Uefa's official

Lifelong fan Coe fears Blues 'vacuum'

LORD COE fears the current Chelsea ownership deadlock could create a "vacuum" with disastrous consequences for the club.

Fears are growing that Roman Abramovich could hold the club to ransom by reneging on his promise to walk away from £1.5 billion owed to him in loans accrued during 19 years at the club.

The licence granted by the Government to continue operating expires on May 31 and a week later the Premier League will demand guarantees the club can fulfil its obligations for the new season.

Two-time Olympic 1500m champion Coe, a lifelong fan who was part of a consortium led by Sir Martin Broughton that was shortlisted as a bidder to buy the club, said: "The one thing I hope we end up with is a swift set of solutions.

"There is a vacuum here if we're not careful, which is going to impact on the players and on the coaching. To be sitting in a stadium where you're regularly 10,000 fans down because you can't sell seats is a problem.

"For me, it was always about the club having the best possible ownership, recognising one very simple fact - that you don't really own a club, you're the stewards of a community sports organisation."

The preferred bidder status of the consortium led by Todd Boehly has been clouded by suggestions they plan to keep on Abramovich stalwarts chairman Bruce Buck and director Marina Granovskaia - two of the main figures to assess the bids.

Pep: we have to 'process' Real loss

Pep Guardiola says Manchester City must "process" their remarkable Champions League semi-final loss to Real Madrid and "come back" as they look to defend their Premier League title.

City had a final spot snatched away from them in Spain as Real scored twice in stoppage time and again in extra time to come back from two goals down.

They lead Liverpool by a point in the league and face Newcastle on Sunday.

"It is tough for us, I cannot deny," Guardiola said of Wednesday's loss.

"We were so close to the Champions League final.

"Now we need to process that and come back, with our people at home and in the last four games we have."

In one of the finest knockout ties in Champions League history, City looked to be emerging victorious after Riyad Mahrez's goal gave them a 5-3 lead in the tie.

But two goals from substitute Rodrygo in stoppage time for a Real side who had previously not had a shot on target levelled it up before Karim Benzema's penalty won it for the Spanish side in extra time.

"In the first half we did not have [the] game, we were not good enough. But we did not suffer much," Guardiola told BT Sport. "They put a lot of players in the box, with Eder Militao, Rodrygo, Vinicius Junior, Karim Benzema and they put in crosses and scored two goals.

"We didn't play our best, but it is normal, a semi-final, the players feel the pressure and wanting to do it. Football is unpredictable, it is a game like this. We have to accept it."

DARKNESS DESCENDS: Guardiola ponders the loss of an epic semi-final

Guardiola has won the Champions League twice as a manager - at Barcelona in 2008-09 and 2010-11.

Since he joined City in 2016, they have been knocked out in the quarter-finals three times and reached their first final last season, losing to Chelsea.

"After we scored the goal we were better. We found our tempo and our game and the players were comfortable. It is not like in the last 10 minutes they attack and attack and you suffer. It didn't happen."

will meet Eintracht Frankfurt in Seville on 18 May with a tantalising chance to win the club's first European trophy for 50 years.

When the full-time whistle arrived, the Rangers players looked on in utter disbelief at their incredible achievement, but it was a performance worthy of winning any European tie.

Using the emotion of Ibrox, as they have throughout the campaign, just days after the passing of club icon and kitman of 30 years Jimmy Bell, they stormed out the blocks and into a 2-0 lead despite the absence of key strikers Alfredo Morelos and Kemar Roofe.

Firstly, Kamara held up a long ball he had no right to retain, and offloaded to Ryan Kent who picked out Tavernier at the back post for his seventh goal of the Europa League campaign.

The fans behind the goal cascaded towards the pitch in sheer elation, but it got even better six minutes later when Kamara caressed a shot with his weaker foot into the back of the net.

Leipzig, a club with a turnover about six times that of Rangers, were completely rattled and should have fallen three goals down before the break as Joe Aribo sclafted a volley in the air from five yards.

That came so close to capping a perfectly executed first-half display from Rangers, and after the break they showed the guts and determination that has characterised their run to the final.

After seeing Aribo and Ryan Jack limp off injured, they were picked apart by Angelino's delicious cross from the left and Nkunku's gorgeous first-time finish and the momentum seemed to have swung away from Van Bronckhorst's side.

But despite the Germans cranking up the pressure and legs tiring, Rangers somehow got themselves up the pitch.

The lively Kent ghosted past his man and hung a cross into the box which almost dropped in, and Lundstram was lurking to drill home the clearance for the winning goal to send Ibrox rocking from its foundations.

Fashion Sakala should have put it to bed in stoppage time when clean through, but it did not matter as Rangers saw out the final minutes in relative comfort having knocked the stuffing from Leipzig.

Leicester City missed out on a place in the Europa Conference League final after losing 1-0 at Roma on Thursday night.

Tammy Abraham's powerful header for the home side was the difference as Leicester struggled to make an impact at the Stadio Olimpico.

The England striker's goal was enough to prevent the Foxes reaching a first European final after the first leg finished 1-1 at the King Power Stadium.

It will be the Italian side's first European final since 1991, where they will face Feyenoord, who drew 0-0 with Marseille for a 3-2 aggregate win.

Leicester boss Brendan Rodgers said after Sunday's Premier League 3-1 defeat to Tottenham that his side needed to work on their defending of corners - so the last thing he would want to see his side do was concede four of them in the opening 10 minutes.

One of those corners gave Abraham opportunity to leap higher than anyone else and put a bullet header past Kasper Schmeichel from a sublime Lorenzo Pellegrini delivery, whose set-pieces were a threat throughout.

Leicester were passive in the first half and did not manage a shot on target as Jamie Vardy looked isolated up front, with Rodgers seeing fit to introduce a strike partner, Kelechi Iheanacho, at half-time.

The Foxes looked brighter in the second period but still failed to create any clear-cut opportunities as Roma were happy to run down the clock.

The only shots of note came towards the final moments of the game as the Leicester players became desperate, shooting from all distances and angles.

James Maddison's weak effort from 20 yards out was straight at Rui Patricio, and Iheanacho's attempt from distance was also picked up with ease by the Portuguese goalkeeper.

Despite Rodgers' admission that he did not know what the Europa Conference League was earlier in the season, Leicester's run in the competition has provided a welcome distraction in an otherwise underwhelming season, where they sit 11th in the Premier League and are without a win in their last four games.

"Of course when you lose a second leg of a semi-final it's disappointing. In the first half it wasn't aggressive enough," Rodgers said.

"The players kept going until the very end but we couldn't find that big chance. There wasn't many in the game for both teams."

But as their chance of reaching a first European final is over, and the likelihood of securing any form of European football next season seems slim, this campaign feels a far cry from last season when they won the FA Cup and finished fifth in the league.

"It's been a great journey for us in Europe in the last couple of years. We have a lot of young players that are finding their way and this was a great experience for them. That will provide motivation for them next season," said Rodgers.

"We just missed out so we're disappointed but we need to finish the season strongly now and look to progress in the summer for next season."

First leg cost us final spot, laments Moyes

Ten man Hammers reach end of the road in Europe

West Ham boss David Moyes said his side lost their Europa League semi-final tie with Eintracht Frankfurt in the first minute of the first leg last week.

Ansgar Knauff gave Frankfurt the lead after 49 seconds in a 2-1 win in London - and set up Rafael Borre for the only goal at Deutsche Bank Park on Thursday.

Defender Aaron Cresswell and Moyes himself were both sent off in Germany.

"Let's be honest, we probably lost the game in the first few seconds at London Stadium when we conceded," Moyes said.

"We were chasing the game since."

Frankfurt will now face Rangers in the final, while West Ham's wait for a trophy goes on to a 43rd year. They are currently seventh in the Premier League, which would be a Europa Conference League spot.

"I am really proud of the players. How they played with 10 men was fantastic. They stayed in it. Other teams would have folded and lost two or three," Moyes said.

"I thought we had better chances than Frankfurt. But we congratulate them. They go through, we don't and we give them our best wishes."

Cresswell was shown a red card for a professional foul after a video assistant referee review, while Moyes was sent off for booting the ball at a ball boy.

"I have to apologise for kicking the ball," Moyes said. "The ball boy left it short nicely on the volley for me. I apologise for it."

"It didn't hit him, I think I bent it past him."

He was also less than impressed by the Frankfurt bench's reaction to Cresswell's initial yellow card which got upgraded to red.

"I thought it wasn't great officiating throughout. Aaron has given the referee a decision to make. I was more disappointed with the Frankfurt bench. The whole bench came out, it comes back to haunt you," he said.

"I hope our bench wouldn't react like that. Maybe we should change how we do it, we do it by Queensbury rules."

West Ham midfielder Declan Rice had similar beliefs to his manager. "The first goal killed the atmosphere in the first game and it is a mountain to climb from there," he told BT Sport.

"We are gutted in there. We have come so far as a group. "We had genuine belief that over two legs they weren't going to beat us. Of course they are a good side but no way are they better than Sevilla or Lyon [who West Ham have beaten on their run].

"The sending-off was probably a sending-off but some of the other decisions were poor to make every decision go for them. When you have someone against you, you can't do much."

Thousands of Frankfurt fans ran on to the pitch at full-time to celebrate their first European final since 1980.

Hammers right-back Vladimir Coufal said: "I wasn't scared. I've experienced it many times at Slavia Prague. If they attack me, it's their problem, not mine."

IBROX ERUPTS: John Lundstram scores Rangers' third goal Thursday night, clinching their Europa League final spot

Rangers' final dreamland

Rangers' dream season in Europe will culminate in a Europa League final against Eintracht Frankfurt after they swept aside RB Leipzig on another emotionally charged and memorable night at Ibrox on Thursday.

Trailing 1-0 from the first leg, Rangers turned the semi-final on its head within 25 minutes through goals from James Tavernier and Glen Kamara.

Christopher Nkunku's 32nd goal of the season levelled the tie again before John Lundstram shook Ibrox with 10 minutes left after sweeping home.

Leipzig, despite their talented squad, could find no answer in the closing stages amid a cauldron of noise as a depleted Rangers side completed their remarkable run from the play-off round to the final.
