Kate's 'renewed sense of hope'

■ In emotional video, Princess says her "path to healing and full recovery is long"

The Princess of Wales has said she is doing what she can to "stay cancer free" after completing chemotherapy treatment and is planning to return to limited public engagements in the coming months.

In a video message released by Kensington Palace on Monday, Catherine said she was relieved that her course of preventive chemotherapy was over after an "incredibly tough" and "scary" nine months for her and her family.

"Doing what I can to stay cancer free is now my focus," she said.

The princess added that her "path to healing and full recovery is long and I must continue to take each day as it comes". She referred to "stormy waters" and an unknown road ahead.

'stormy waters'

Catherine had begun working from home on some projects and would return to a "light programme of external engagements for the remainder of the year", the palace said.

It indicated that it was not possible at this stage to say whether she was officially cancer-free. Patients are usually declared free of the disease when there has been no detectable cancer in the body for five years.

The princess's statement said: "As the summer comes to an end, I cannot tell you what a relief it is to have finally completed my chemotherapy treatment.

"The last nine months have been incredibly tough for us as a family. Life as you know it can change in an instant and we have had to find a way to navigate the stormy waters and road unknown.

"The cancer journey is complex, scary and unpredictable for everyone, especially those closest to you. With humility, it also brings you face to face with your own vulnerabilities in a way you have never considered before, and with that, a new perspective on everything.

"This time has above all reminded William and me to reflect and be grateful for the simple yet important things in life, which so many of us often take for granted. Of simply loving and being loved.

"Doing what I can to stay cancer free is now my focus. Although I have finished chemotherapy, my path to healing and full recovery is long and I must continue to take each day as it comes.

"I am, however, looking forward to being back at work and undertaking a few more public engagements in the coming months when I can.

'truly humbling'

"Despite all that has gone before, I enter this new phase of recovery with a renewed sense of hope and appreciation of life. William and I are so grateful for the support we have received and have drawn great strength from all those who are helping us at this time.

"Everyone's kindness, empathy and compassion has been truly humbling.

"To all those who are continuing their own cancer journey - I remain with you, side by side, hand in hand. Out of darkness, can come light, so let that light shine

NHS 'was creaking at seams' when Covid hit

■ "Broad and ambitious" probe finds UK had too few beds and too few staff to deal with 2020 pandemic

The NHS was "creaking at the seams" when the pandemic hit – and this undermined the care given to both coronavirus patients and those needing treatment for other conditions, the Covid public inquiry has been told.

On Monday's opening day of the third stage of the inquiry, which is looking at healthcare, lawyers said the health service entered the pandemic with too few staff and beds.

The problems meant non-Covid care had to be cancelled en masse, while those who were severely ill with the virus could not always get the care they needed.

But the start of the third module also attracted criticism from campaigners, with the Covid-19 Bereaved Families for Justice UK group unhappy with the way witnesses have been called.

The campaigners said only two of the 23 witnesses they had put forward had been called to appear.

Spokesman James Telfer suggested the coming hearings would be "one of the most distressing" parts of the inquiry, adding it was "deeply disturbing" more was not being done to learn from the experiences of bereaved families and health staff.

In total, more than 30 witnesses are expected to be called to give evidence during the next 10 weeks of hearings.

The inquiry said it had also collected the stories of more than 30,000 health-care workers, patients and relatives - which had now been submitted into evidence.

'Matter of concern'

In her introductory remarks, lead counsel Jacqueline Carey KC said this module would be "broad and ambitious".

And she made it clear that as well as looking at how the NHS coped, it would explore the position it was in when Covid hit.

Quoting the words of the former prime minister Boris Johnson, who told the nation to "stay home, protect the NHS, save lives" as lockdown was announced in March 2020, Ms Carey said this stage would examine why the NHS had to be protected in the first place.

She said going into the pandemic, staffing levels were "clearly a matter of concern" with nursing vacancy rates in particular being high.

"If one stands back, it appears the UK entered the pandemic with not enough staff, then compounded by staff absence through shielding, staff lost because they had long Covid, and that's before one even considers the long-term impact on the morale and wellbeing of workers who were simply burnt out", Ms Carey said.

She also referenced new research carried out for the inquiry, which is being published this week.

More than half of 1,700 health staff surveyed said at times patients who were acutely ill with Covid could not get the care they needed.

Ms Carey said this presented a picture of a "healthcare system creaking at the seams" as well as "hugely difficult decisions" having to be made.

She also mentioned the "undoubted indirect harm" caused by the need to focus on protecting NHS capacity for Covid patients.

This included suspending elective care, such as hip and knee replacements. She also listed missed can-

NHS workers were simply burnt out", the inquiry found cer diagnoses, people with heart problems staying away from hospital and dying in the community and pregnant women delaying seeking help.

The hearings for this module will run to December. It comes after the completion of hearings on pandemic preparedness and core decision-making.

Cold Logic: Starmer blasted after cutting winter fuel payments

Millions of pensioners are set to lose winter fuel payments this year after an attempt to block the cuts failed in Parliament.

The government won a vote on the plan to restrict the payments to all but the poorest pensioners by 348 votes to 228 - a majority of 120.

Fifty-two Labour MPs did not take part in the vote, including seven ministers, but it is not clear how many deliberately abstained or were absent from Parliament for another reason.

Only one Labour MP, Jon Trickett, voted against the government, on what he said could "be a matter of life and death" for his constituents.

'shame'

The vote was called by the Conservative opposition, who put forward a motion to block the government's plans to means-test the benefits.

Shouts of "shame" were heard in the Commons chamber as the result was announced, which will mean the number of fuel payments will fall from 11.4 million to 1.5 million this winter.

WINTER OF DISCONTENT? most probably

Dozens of Labour MPs were reported to have been planning to abstain in protest at the cuts despite Chancellor Rachel Reeves urging them to back the government.

Labour sources said 12 of the MPs absent for Tuesday's vote had not been authorised.

It later emerged that around 20 of those who did not vote have previously publicly expressed opposition to the policy - for instance in interviews or on social media.

Several others have not expressed a view publicly and have not replied to requests for comment.

Members of Parliament can be absent for a number of reasons, for example travel, medical appointments or constituency meetings.

They can receive "slips" - or permission - from the party whips to miss the vote or be "paired" with someone from the opposing side who also agrees not to vote in order to nullify the effect of their absence.

The winter fuel payments of either £200 or £300 are normally made in November and December and will still be paid to all pensioners claiming pension credit to top up a low income.

The Prime Minister, Sir Keir Starmer has claimed that the impact on the 10 million pensioners losing out would be lessened by the fact pensions were rising by 4% in April, increasing the full state pension by £460 a year.

Lucy Letby conspiracy theorists 'should be ashamed', inquiry told

■ Parents of babies murdered by former hospital nurse say critics are using families' losses to build their own reputations

The parents of babies murdered by the former nurse Lucy Letby have said conspiracy theorists should be "ashamed", in a statement read by a lawyer to a public inquiry.

Letby, 34, was sentenced to 15 whole-life orders after she was convicted across two trials of murdering seven babies and attempting to murder seven others.

The inquiry, led by Lady Justice Thirlwall at Liverpool town hall, will examine events at the Countess of Chester hospital's neonatal unit, where Letby was a nurse from 2015 to 2016. Letby was first arrested in 2018 and convicted in 2023 and 2024.

There have been numerous reports highlighting the doubts of some over Letby's convictions, including a group of neonatal experts and statisticians who have called on the government to postpone or change the terms of the inquiry over their concerns.

'no doubt'

At the inquiry on Thursday, Richard Baker KC, a barrister speaking on behalf of the parents of Children C, D, E, F, G, H, J, K, O, P and R, five of whom were murdered by Letby, said: "Everybody who recklessly promotes conspiracy theories, or who parrots them without questioning the same tired misconceptions about this case, should be ashamed of themselves.

"The families, along with the jury, collectively sat through 10 months of evidence – in the case of Family K two trials. They did so with impressive dignity, they heard the evidence against her and have no doubt that she was guilty. The jury had no doubt that she was guilty.

"The trial was overseen by an experienced high court judge and reviewed comprehensively with care by the court of appeal.

"This process, conducted with scrupulous fairness and with exhausting detail, is arrogantly ignored by those who criticise the outcome. Those individuals offer superficial opinions based upon second- or third-hand accounts, expressing conclusions that it may be generous to call on occasion half-baked.

'secretive'

"In the meantime, the families, a jury, the judge, the court of appeal and even the team who represented Letby at trial must remain silent while others use the losses suffered by those families as currency to build their own reputations."

Baker revealed that babies' breathing tubes were dislodged at a disproportionate rate during Letby's placements in late 2012 and early 2015 at Liverpool women's hospital.

He told the inquiry that collapses of babies in neonatal units caused by events such as dislodgement of endotracheal tubes – a feature of some of the allegations levelled at Letby during her criminal trials – was "uncommon".

He said: "It generally occurs in less than 1% of shifts.

"You will hear that an audit carried out by Liverpool women's hospital recorded that whilst Lucy Letby was working there, dislodgement of endotracheal tubes occurred in 40% of shifts that she worked. One may wonder why."

Liverpool Women's NHS foundation trust has previously confirmed it was working with Cheshire police on the investigation into Letby's time at the hospital.

Earlier, Peter Skelton KC, representing the families of Children A, B, I, L, M, N and Q, two of whom were murdered, said parents were "kept in the dark" by the Countess of Chester hospital over the collapse of their babies and the concerns and investigations that were subsequently undertaken.

"They should have been told not when those investigations had concluded but as soon as they were initiated. Not telling them was morally indefensible," he said.

"It is indicative of a healthcare culture that remains even now paternalistic and secretive. Additionally – and of more practical importance – it meant that the investigations themselves did not capture information that only the parents could have given or answered questions that only the parents would have asked."

The inquiry continues and is expected to last nearly five months.

Letby was convicted of murdering seven babies and attempting to kill seven more at the Countess of Chester hospital's neo-natal unit

Tories: and then there were four*■ Stride walks after coming last in latest round of voting

The Conservative leadership contest has been whittled down to four candidates after former cabinet minister Mel Stride was knocked out in a vote of Tory MPs on Tuesday.

The former immigration minister Robert Jenrick finished top with 33 votes, with Kemi Badenoch second on 28 votes.

James Cleverly and Tom Tugendhat got 21 votes each from Tory MPs, leaving Mel Stride with the fewest votes on 16.

There will be further voting by MPs after the party's conference next month to select the final two to be put to a vote of Tory members, who get the final say over who will be the new leader.

Posting on X, formerly known as Twitter, Stride said: “Out of the contest but really enjoyed the journey.

“Met so many wonderful people. Our party's values still run deep and strong.

“In time we will prevail. Thank you to everyone who had a kind or positive word for me along the way.”

The leadership contest winner will replace former prime minister Rishi Sunak, who stood down as party leader after leading the Conservatives to their worst performance at a general election in July.

tary Priti Patel went out in the first round of voting by Tory MPs last week.

In the second round, Jenrick and Badenoch slightly increased their vote shares, while Cleverly stayed on 21 and Tugendhat added four to his tally. Stride, former work and pensions secretary, was a loyal ally of Sunak when the Tories were in power and was often seen defending his decisions in TV interviews.

Now shadow work and pensions secretary, he had tried to position himself as a steady hand who could restore the credibility of the Conservative Party after its historic defeat in the general election.

Stride's leadership platform offered to unite the party behind Conservative values and win back the public's trust.

Tate 'raped and strangled us', UK women claim

Two women who say they were raped and strangled by the controversial social media influencer Andrew Tate have spoken to reporters about their experiences.

Another woman has alleged, for the first time, she was raped by Mr Tate's younger brother, Tristan - also an influencer with millions of followers.

The Tate brothers, aged 37 and 36, currently face charges in Romania of human trafficking and forming an organized group to sexually exploit women. Andrew Tate is also charged with rape.

If found guilty, the two men could be jailed for more than 10 years. They strongly deny the charges against them.

Andrew Tate is currently under house arrest in Romania. In addition to the charges he already faces, prosecutors are considering new allegations against him, including having sex with a minor and trafficking underage persons. Both brothers are also being investigated for trafficking 34 more women.

Now, in a new BBC Panorama program, two British women have given detailed first-hand accounts of alleged rape and sexual violence by Andrew Tate dating back to when Mr Tate was living in Luton.

Another British woman has made a new allegation of rape against Tristan Tate, saying he put his hands around her throat as he did so.

The woman said went out with Andrew Tate in Luton in 2013. After a few dates, she says she went back to his house.

“He started kissing me... and he just looked up at the ceiling and said, ‘I'm just debating whether I should rape you or not. Out of the blue he just grabbed me by the throat, smashed me to the back of the bed, strangling me extremely hard.’”

Anna says he then raped her.

She says after the attack, Mr Tate sent her disturbing text messages and voice notes about rape and sexual violence.

“Am I a bad person? Because the more you didn't like it, the more I enjoyed it,” he said in a voice note.

In a text he wrote: “I love raping you.”

Overcrowded jails brings early release for 1,700 prisoners

More than 1,700 prisoners have been released early in England and Wales as part of a government scheme to ease overcrowding in prisons.

One freed prisoner said conditions in his prison were “disgusting” with “water running black out of the taps” and “rats running around the wings”.

Not all victims of crime were made aware of their offenders' early release date, the victims' commissioner for England and Wales said, warning that some victims may not have had the opportunity to seek “protective measures”.

The government said offenders jailed for violent offences with sentences of at least four years, sex offenders and domestic abusers were not eligible for early release.

Baroness Newlove, the victims' commissioner for England and Wales, warned that not all victims of crime had been made aware of their offenders' early release date and given the opportunity to seek “protective measures”.

'ticking time bomb'

She said that from the beginning of the scheme, she had sought assurances that all “impacted victims” would be informed of any early release dates, affording them the opportunity to request protective measures.

The Napo probation union said domestic abusers and sex offenders were among those released.

It described the early prisoner release scheme as a “ticking time bomb that could put public safety at risk.”

Hedge Fund tycoon forks out £100m for The Spectator

The Spectator has been sold for £100m to Sir Paul Marshall, a hedge fund tycoon and major investor in GB News.

He beat around 20 other bidders to buy the venerable right-leaning magazine, once edited by former Prime Minister Boris Johnson.

It went back on sale in April after an Abu Dhabi-backed bid to buy it along with the Daily Telegraph and the Sunday Telegraph collapsed.

This came after the government intervened in January. Legislation banning foreign states from owning UK newspapers soon followed.

That deal would have transferred the ownership to the Gulf-backed Redbird IMI consortium.

The Telegraph newspapers remain for sale, and Sir Paul is also in the running to buy those as he continues his bid to build an empire of right-wing media outlets.

Others thought to be among the bidders include Rupert Murdoch's News UK and former chancellor Nadhim Zahawi.

After the deal was announced, Spectator chairman Andrew Neil said he would resign with immediate effect, having previously stated that hedge funds should not be allowed to own news publications because of the risk of conflict of interest.

"I made it clear many months ago that I would step down when a new owner took over. That time has now come," he posted on X, formerly Twitter.

The Spectator was established in 1828, making it one of the oldest politics and current affairs magazines in the world.

Sir Paul, who is buying the magazine through his Old Queen Street (OQS) media group, said: "As a long-term Spectator reader, I am delighted it is joining the OQS stable."

"The plan is for OQS to make good previous underinvestment in one of the world's great titles."

Sir Paul started work in the City and set up his own hedge fund with business partner Ian Wace in 1997. According to Wace, a "considerable proportion" of the first

Founded in 1828, the 'Speciee' is one of the world's oldest current affairs magazines $50m they had under management came from the famous investor and philanthropist George Soros.

Worth an estimated £875m, Sir Paul is not that well known outside the financial and political worlds. He is probably less famous than his son Winston, a former member of the folk-rock band Mumford & Sons.

A devout Christian, Sir

Paul is also known for his philanthropy, co-founding the children's educational charity ARK, and donating millions to set up the Marshall Institute for Philanthropy and Social Entrepreneurship.

In 2016 he was knighted for services to education and philanthropy.

Politically, he was a member of the Liberal Democrats for many years, and in 1987 he stood to be an MP for the SDP, a forerunner of the party.

By 2016 his allegiance had switched to the Conservative Party and he was a supporter of Brexit, donating £100,000 to the Leave campaign.

In 2017 he founded the news website UnHerd, and he has invested tens of millions of pounds in GB News since its launch in 2021.

In a statement, the probation union said it feared the scheme was "moving the problem from one place to another without properly assessing the risks".

In response, the Ministry of Justice (MoJ) pointed out eligibility for the scheme was based on the offence, not the offender. Some offenders may have been released early from a sentence for a lesser offence when they had previously completed a sentence for a sexual or violent offence, it added.

Nicole Jacobs, the domestic abuse commissioner for England and Wales, called for a blanket exemption for all known domestic abuse perpetrators.

"There is no justice in allowing perpetrators of domestic abuse to be released early," Ms Jacobs said, adding: "It might not be possible for every victim to be notified of their abuser's release and I fear they may be left blindsided".

There is no single offence for domestic abuse. Certain crimes like coercive control, harassment and stalking were excluded from the scheme, but not others including threats to kill and actual bodily harm. Prisoners convicted of these offences may still qualify for early release.

The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the County here the real property is located and more than three months have elapsed since such recordation. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (844)477-7869 or visit this Internet Website www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 631-019708. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Website. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (844)477-7869, or visit this internet website www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case 631-019708 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. 8/22/2024 PLM LOAN MANAGEMENT SERVICES, INC., as Trustee Phone: (408) 370-4030 5446 Thornwood Drive, 2nd Floor San Jose, CA 95123 Elizabeth Godbey, Vice President

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF JENNIFER LYNN COLE

Case No. 24STPB09511

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of JENNIFER LYNN COLE

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Paula Eulan Fitch in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Paula Eulan Fitch be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Sept. 26, 2024 at 8:30 AM in Dept. No. 62 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

YE OLDE KING'S HEAD

Mocktails, darts and karaoke at Ye Olde King's Head

THE SCORCHING weather looks to have finally broken, bringing cooler evenings and (hopefully) more of an Autumn feel to the LA basin as the days get shorter.

There's also change in the air at Ye Olde King's Head, which is bringing back an old favorites and something new, to boot.

The famed Santa Monica pub has just brought back its popular darts league, Tuesdays at 7.30pm. If you're a dab hand with the arrows head down to test your skills in some tough but fair competition with plenty of banter and some much-needed complimentary appetizers, given all the calories you will burn. Even better there's a free round of beers for all players, win or lose.

The pub has also introduced a popular line of mocktails for those who prefer to be abstemious, including the Dragonfruit and Secco Sunset (non-alcoholic sparkling rosé paired with dragonfruit and fresh fruit juices), the passionfruit n/a margarita, and even non-alcoholic gins, highland malts and a variety of non-alcoholic beers.

Finally, don't miss their popular karaoke on Sunday and Thursday nights at 9pm

Ye Olde Kings Head is located at 116 Santa Monica Boulevard in Santa Monica. Or find them on Instagram at yeoldekingshead.

Stargazing with Annie Shaw

ARIES: Now is the time to put your financial goals for Autumn on the top of your to-do list. Mars in your money area will help out.
TAURUS: You could be feeling worried about your future direction in life. This is due to your boss planet Venus setting you challenges. Do not be tempted to challenge back.
GEMINI: This is a good time to catch up with distant friends and unfinished business of any kind. Your boss Mercury is going forward and will assist you.
CANCER: Your current situation can be draining your energy and your finances. Do not give in to worry. Mars is visiting you and by month's end you will be flush again.
LEO: You should be starting to feel more upbeat and ready to take on the world. This can be in any area, however you should still keep a low profile for a while.
VIRGO: Your life may feel like it's not going in any particular direction of late. This was due in part to Mercury slowing up but he is moving faster now. It is getting better. Happy Birthday!
LIBRA: The Sun starting your new year next week will greatly help any plans. By the end of the month life looks good. Be sure to thoroughly research any new 'opportunities', business wise.
SCORPIO: Life is currently getting more upbeat. This could be due to your effort to be positive and live in the moment. Life is for living, so go forward and enjoy.
SAGITTARIUS: It's not currently a time to be overspending or to giving resources to others. This is only for a short while and by month's end you will have more energy and be ready to move forward.
CAPRICORN: Life has been throwing you some good opportunities this month. For some it's time to take a break away from family and friends. If you are not able, just keep a low profile.
AQUARIUS: Be honest as only you can be to yourself and see what or how you can make your life more peaceful. Your boss in Taurus currently wants you to be more relaxed and less stubborn.
PISCES: Don't look down. just look up at what you can do in the future. You are one of the most sensitive souls and this is a time to be upbeat, not stressing over what you cannot change.

Scotland:

But, unlike the must-win game against Hungary, Scotland fans will come out of these Nations League matches with the feeling that their side have clearly been effective as an attacking force.

And according to former Scottish star and leading radio pundit Pat Nevin, Clarke needs three things - patience, bravery, and trust.

"We've got fairly patient supporters," Nevin told BBC Scotland. "They understand the limitations of Scotland a lot of the time and have done for generations. That's the hard one and I understand why some people lose patience."

The bravery, says Nevin, must come from the Scottish FA board to stick by their man, even if this slump continues - which it very well might, given Scotland's next four games (Croatia away, Portugal home, Croatia home, Poland away).

"They need to stand back and realise the basics are there," Nevin added. "We've got a good coach who gets the best that he possibly can do from the group."

"I get the feeling they will [back Clarke]. They really enjoyed the fact that they got those two Euros in a row. Okay, we didn't do so well when we got there but it is all about getting there. I think he deserves it and I think they'll think that too."

Finally, Clarke needs the trust of his players. Stephen McGinn, brother of Scotland star John, is certain the head coach has that.

"From within the camp, the guys have total trust in Clarke," McGinn said. "They enjoy it. We need to be careful with the narrative of really pushing it and getting rid of a manager that we all know deep down can get us to a major tournament."

Pedigree: Newey is F1's most successful designer ever

F1: £30m payday lures Newey to Aston Martin

Leading Formula 1 designer Adrian Newey will join Aston Martin next year.

Newey is by far the most successful designer F1 has ever known: in a career spanning several decades, his cars have won 12 constructors' and 13 drivers' titles. In that time his designs have also swept to 532 podiums and 220 grand prix wins. He has made a long-term commitment to the team, said to be a five-year contract worth up to a possible £30m a year, including bonuses and add-ons.

The deal was announced at a news conference organized by Aston Martin at their F1 base at Silverstone on Tuesday.

Newey, who in April negotiated an early exit from his contract as Red Bull chief technical officer, will start work in early March.

Securing Newey is a coup for Aston Martin owner Lawrence Stroll, a Canadian billionaire who has invested heavily in the team with the ambition of turning them into world championship contenders.

Bellamy 'extremely proud' after Montenegro victory

Craig Bellamy has spoken of his pride after celebrating his first Wales victory, a match in Montenegro played in what he described as the "toughest conditions" he had ever encountered.

Early goals from Kieffer Moore and Harry Wilson secured a 2-1 Nations League win in Niksic on Monday, where torrential rain ruined the pitch and made it difficult for players to simply stay on their feet, never mind play football.

However, Wales dug in to earn Bellamy a maiden victory to go with last Friday's promising goalless draw with Turkey in his opening match.

"I'm extremely proud. I love this group, I really do," said Bellamy.

"These are the toughest conditions I've been in.

Nothing about coming here has been easy. You could have had a lot of excuses about this trip. The change of venue, the travel here, a bus driver who took his time, the conditions, but sometimes you learn from it.

"There is a reason why this group have qualified for major tournaments. It wasn't a football match. The conditions weren't going to allow it. I couldn't even wear trainers here. My summer bomber jacket is gone!

"We saw after five minutes the pitch tore up and then it becomes about who can win the battle. It was close at times. If it was a boxing match, there were two teams out on their feet and we came out on top. Sometimes you take more pride from these wins."

Arteta: "I want to do much more than what we've already done together."

Arteta inks new three year deal

Arsenal manager Mikel Arteta has signed a new three-year contract with the club.

The Spaniard was set to be out of contract at the end of the season but has now committed to a deal until 2027, prior to Sunday's north London derby at Tottenham.

"I feel extremely proud, very excited and am looking forward to what is coming next," said Arteta.

"I feel extremely lucky to work every single day with good people and the ambition we have here. I feel very inspired, I feel challenged, I feel supported and I want to do much more than what we've already done together."

The Gunners appointed Arteta, who had been working as a coach under Pep Guardiola at Manchester City at the time, to replace compatriot Unai Emery as boss in December 2019.

He led Arsenal to victory in the FA Cup final at the end of the 2019-2020 campaign to claim his first major trophy as a manager.

Arsenal have finished second to Manchester City in the Premier League in the past two seasons as the 42-year-old tries to steer the club to their first top-flight title since 2003-04.

"Mikel is a dynamic and passionate manager, who is relentless in the pursuit of excellence," Arsenal co-chairman

Josh Kroenke added:

"He has a deep understanding of Arsenal's values, and since joining us as head coach in December 2019, he has taken the team to another level in an Arsenal way."

Gunners sporting director Edu added Arteta's contract gave the club "stability and clear direction as we aim for new heights".

After three games this season Arsenal are fourth.

Kane at the double!

NATIONS LEAGUE: Centurion Harry celebrates in style with Finland brace

England captain Harry Kane celebrated his 100th cap in style with two spectacular goals as Finland were beaten in 2-0 the Uefa Nations League at Wembley on Tuesday.

Kane received a golden cap before kick-off to mark the occasion and wore golden boots - which he used in style to break down a stubborn Finland side.

England had struggled to turn possession into goals, Kane twice being denied by Finland keeper Lukas Hradecky and having a goal ruled out for offside before breaking the deadlock with his 67th international goal.

It was goal befitting the occasion, Kane taking a clever pass in the 57th minute from Trent Alexander-Arnold in his stride before escaping the attentions of the Finnish defence to flash a stunning shot high past Hradecky.

And Kane's landmark night got even better 14 minutes from time when England debutant Noni Madueke set him up for another clinical finish which gave the defiant Hradecky no chance.

It was England's reward for a much-improved second-half display that ensured interim manager Lee Carsley has started his reign with two wins after beating the Republic of Ireland in Dublin on Saturday.

Kane used the night of his 100th cap to deliver a powerful reminder of his quality after a summer of struggle at Euro 2024 in Germany.

The 31-year-old looked a shadow of the striker who is England's all-time record goalscorer with a series of laboured and lacklustre displays at Euro 2024 in which he looked short of fitness and way off the pace.

Here at Wembley, against moderate but well-organised opposition, the Bayern Munich forward was a threat throughout with only Hradecky standing between England's leader and the goal he so desperately wanted.

In the end, Kane was the winner of what was becoming a personal battle, triumphing in emphatic fashion with two comprehensive goals.

It was a poignant night as well as one of celebration at Wembley, with tributes paid to former England manager Sven-Goran Eriksson, who died recently, before Kane received his golden cap from Frank Lampard as well as a bouquet of flowers from Finland's captain Hradecky.

Kane has been well aware of the justified scrutiny he came under after such a poor Euros but the two goals here took him to an outstanding tally of 68 goals in his 100 England appearances as he demonstrated he can still be a formidable player in the post-Gareth Southgate era.

Carsley has emerged from his opening two games as England's interim manager with an unblemished record - although this must be placed in the context of wins against opposition that ranged from desperately poor in the Republic of Ireland to moderate in the shape of Finland.

Questions would have been asked had England not won these two games but six points from six is exactly what Carsley wanted and potential banana skins have been neatly avoided.

It will strengthen his case to become Southgate's permanent successor but full judgement must be reserved until Carsley's England are tested against tougher opponents than they have faced so far.

Carsley has shown he is determined to do things his way, clearly wanting to impose a more dy-

SEIZING THE MOMENT: 100 caps and two more goals for Harry Kane namic approach and a willingness to give youth its fling, as Lille's Angel Gomes got his first start and Chelsea forward Ma-dueke made his debut as a substitute.

England struggled to create in the first half but took stronger control as Finland tired, leaving captain Kane to steal the show on a special night for one of the country's greatest strikers.

Scotland's misery continues

Steve Clarke's bright start to managing the Scottish national team seems a distant memory this week, as his charges have gone on a miserable run of eight competitive games - the worst in the nation's history. Including friendlies, it's one win in 14 attempts.

Their latest setback, a last-gasp loss to Portugal on Sunday was perhaps the unkindest of them all, but Clarke remained upbeat, urging his players not to be hard on themselves after the late blow.

Half-time substitute Cristiano Ronaldo netted from close range in the 88th minute to earn Portugal a 2-1 victory in Lisbon in group A1 of the UEFA Nations League.

It was a familiar feeling for the Scotland players after conceding stoppage-time winners in their previous two matches, against Hungary in the Euro 2024 group stage and then Poland at Hampden on Thursday.
